

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THE first distinctive feature of this book is, as its name suggests, that the lessons contain connected Latin passages for the pupil to read. As soon as practicable, the special grammatical points to be learned in each lesson are illustrated, not in disconnected sentences, but in a continuous Latin story. The stories are drawn chiefly from Roman mythology and traditional Roman history, interspersed with an occasional passage on the life of the Romans. This plan has the following advantages: —

1. It acts as a powerful incentive to work.
2. It adds directly to the pupil's knowledge of Roman mythology, traditions, and customs.
3. It emphasizes at the outset the fact that grammar is merely a means to the enjoyment of literature.

The second feature of the book is that all the exercises for translating English into Latin are based on the Latin text immediately preceding them.

A third point of special importance is that, beginning with Lesson XV, a passage to be translated at sight is included in every lesson. In the report of the Latin Conference to the Committee on Secondary School Studies this point is particularly emphasized. After stating the views of those who shrink from adopting translation at sight as the sole test of the pupil's attainments, the following significant sentence is added: "Yet the importance of devoting a good deal of attention to translation at sight is now universally acknowledged among the best teachers in school and college; and the recommendation that translation at sight form a constant and increasing part of the examination for admission and of the work of preparation, is therefore regarded by the Conference as of especial moment."

Lastly, questions in Latin, referring to the text, are included in the lessons, in the hope that teachers will avail themselves of this simple but effective mode of familiarizing their scholars with the Latin itself. Nothing gives the pupil a firmer grasp on phrases, nothing fits him more quickly to understand Latin without translating it, than this very method of asking and answering questions in Latin.

In addition to these more important features of the book, attention is directed to the following points:—

1. The systematic and thorough drill on pronunciation in the first two lessons.

2. The incorporation of all necessary principles of English grammar in the body of the book.

3. The omission of the Vocative case in the paradigms, sufficient emphasis being laid upon it in the rules.

4. The use of -is instead of -es in the Accusative Plural of -i stems of the Third Declension. This has not only become necessary on account of its use in many of the latest school texts, but it is desirable as a means of distinguishing between the Nominative and Accusative Plural.

5. The comparative view of the declensions of nouns and adjectives in the tables on pages 204 and 211.

6. The comparative view of the four regular conjugations in the body of the book, supplemented on pages 221-231 by the presentation of the Active and Passive voices of each conjugation, side by side.

7. The questions for the pupils at the end of the lessons. These are not intended to take the place of questions by the teacher, but are merely to enable the pupil to ascertain whether he has thoroughly mastered his lesson.

The lessons appear to be much longer than they really are. It must be remembered that the labors of the pupil practically end with the translation of the English sentences into Latin, the rest of the lesson being reserved for the class-room.

The author is indebted to many friends for helpful suggestions, but particularly to Professor F. J. BARTLETT of the Albany Normal College, and to Professor C. B. GOULD of the Albany Academy.

It is hoped that the use of this book will not only add to the beginner's enjoyment of Latin, but that it will insure rapid progress and unusual facility in reading and understanding the language.

FIRST LATIN READER.

LESSON I.

Alphabet; Pronunciation.

1. The Latin alphabet is the same as the English, except that it has no j or w.
2. The letters are divided into vowels and consonants.

VOWELS.

3. The vowels are a, e, i, o, u, and y; they are either long or short.
 - a*. A long vowel is marked with a dash, thus: ā.
 - b*. A short vowel is not marked.
4. The vowels are sounded as follows:

ā as in far .	a as in a-rise .
ē as in they .	e as in men .
ī as in ma-rine .	i as in pin .
ō as in bone .	o as in o-bey .
ū as oo in cool .	u as in full .

5. Pronounce the following words:

ā : nā, quā, stā .	ī : dī, mī, nī .
ē : mē, nē, tē .	ō : dō, prō, stō .
ū : nū, sū, tū .

- a. ā and a : sā-ga, sa-ga ; mā-lō, ma-lō ; fā-vī, fa-vī.
 ē and e : ē-mī, e-mī ; ē-dī, e-dī ; sē-rō, se-rō.
 ī and i : dī-cō, di-cō ; sī-nī, si-nī ; lī-nō, li-nō.
 ō and o : nō-ta, no-tā ; sō-lō, so-lō ; lō-ra, lo-rā.
 ū and u : lū-tō, lu-tō ; fū-gī, fu-gī ; sū-dī, su-dī.

DIPHTHONGS.

6. The diphthongs are sounded as follows :

ae as ai in aisle.

au as ow in cow.

oe as oy in boy.

eu as eu in feud.

7. Pronounce the following words :

ae : ae-tās, ae-ger, lae-sum, pae-ne, sae-pe.

au : au-lā, au-rī, fau-tor, lau-de, pau-lō.

oe : coe-pī, foe-dē, poe-nā, Oe-ta, oe-strus.

eu : heu, seu, neu-ter, Eu-rus, Leu-cī.

GENERAL RULES FOR QUANTITY OF VOWELS.

8. Diphthongs are long, as : haec, poenae.

a. A vowel followed by nf, ns, gm, gn, or i (consonant) is long, as : infra, mēnsa, āgmen, ignis, cūius.

b. A vowel followed by another vowel, or by a diphthong, or by h is short, as : via, tuae, vehit.

c. A vowel followed by nt or nd is short, as : sunt, amandus.

CONSONANTS.

9. The consonants may be classified as follows :

a. Mutes { Labials: p, b.
 { Linguals: t, d.
 { Palatals: c, k, q, g.

b. Liquids : l, m, n, r.

c. Spirants : f, s.

d. Semi-vowels : v, i (consonant).

e. Double consonants : x = cs or gs, z = ds.

f. h is only a breathing.

10. The consonants are sounded as follows :

- c as in cap (not as in cent).
- g as in yet (not as in gem).
- i (consonant) as y in yet.

- t as in ten (not as in na-tion).
- v as w in wet.
- z as dz in adze.
- ch as in chorus.

The other consonants are sounded as in English.

QUESTIONS.

12. How does the Latin alphabet differ from the English ? Name the vowels. What is the quantity of a diphthong ? When is a vowel long ? When is a vowel short ? How may the mutes be classified ? Name the liquids. Give the equivalents of the double consonants. What is the value of h ?

LESSON II.

Syllables ; Accent.

13. A word is divided into as many syllables as it has vowels and diphthongs.

Exc. After q, g, and generally s, (also in cuī and huīc), the vowel u, when followed by a vowel, does not form a separate syllable, as : an-guis, quo-que, suā-det.

a. A consonant between two vowels is joined to the second vowel, as : a-vī, ō-ra.

b. When there are two or more consonants, as many of them as can begin a word should be joined to the second vowel, as : ge-stum, ī-gnī, pi-scēs, ter-ra, ven-tus.

Exc. The words forming a compound should be separated, as : ad-est.

14. The last syllable of a word is called the ultima; the next to the last, the penult; the one before the penult, the antepenult.

15. Divide into syllables :

animal, colōnus, dirimō, grātus, libērtās, prīnceps, respōnsum, subter, tranquillitās;
vīctus, prīscus, occurrō, incendium, quīnque, comitia, dēcertātiō, cōgnōscō, contrōversia, languidus;
litterātē, īnsistō, prōsternō, elephantus, adloquor, tulistī, condemnō, intrātus, māgnanimus.

QUANTITY OF SYLLABLES.

16. A syllable is long :

a. When it contains a long vowel, or a diphthong, as :
lāc, mēns, haec, ae-tās;

b. When it contains a short vowel followed either by two consonants, or by x, or z, as: a-sper, sal-tant, sa-xa, ga-za.

17. What is the quantity of the syllables in the following words?

Rōmānī, tempestātis, epulae, aurum, ārae, tabellārius, flexūs, prōverbiō, posterō, aequus;
mātūrōrum, gentis, quisquam, stellae, suāvitās, ser- mōnibus, captīvōs, sanguine.

ACCENT.

18. Words of two syllables are accented on the penult, as: a'-per, tū'-tus.

a. Words of more than two syllables are accented on the penult, if it is long; otherwise, on the antepenult, as: de-cō'-rum, de'-co-rum.

b. A few short words called enclitics are used only as they are added to other words. The accent falls on the syllable before the enclitic, as: sua'que, estis'ne.

19. Accent and pronounce the following:

lābēs, gīgnis, putās, mare, nūllus, puer, lupus;
laudāre, puellīs, tellūris, scrībere, monēre;
tergorum, tergōrum, columba, tegimus;
vestra-que, obsidibus, multitūdō, facillimus;
profundus, mūnitiō, habet-ne, opportūnē;
vincimus, vincimus, perfugit, perfūgit;
complexus, dēscendō, libenter, frūmentum.

QUESTIONS.

20. Into how many syllables is a word divided? How are the consonants placed? Name the last three syllables of a word. Rule for accent. What effect has an enclitic upon accent? When is a syllable long?

LESSON III.

Noun, Verb, Subject, Object.

21. A Noun is the name of any person, place, or thing, as: John, Boston, table.

22. A Verb expresses action or being, as: run, is. Every sentence must contain a verb.

23. The Subject in a sentence is that which does the action, and is said to be in the Nominative case, as: The dog bites.

24. The Object is that which receives the action, and is said to be in the Accusative case, as: The dog bit the boy.

25. In English, the subject is usually put before the verb; the object after it. In the two sentences which follow, note the difference in meaning, caused by changing the position of the word boy.

The boy killed the wolf.

The wolf killed the boy.

a. In Latin, this difference is expressed — not by changing the order of the nouns — but by their endings.

26. Note carefully the endings of the words in the following Latin sentences:

Vitat.

(He, she, or it) avoids.

Nauta vitat.

The sailor avoids.

Nauta advenam vitat.

The sailor avoids the stranger.

Nautam advena vitat.

The stranger avoids the sailor.

a. Observe that the verb vitat ends in -t. The verb-stem vītā- means avoid. As in English, when the subject is he, she, or it, we add -s to the verb (e.g., he avoid-s), so the Latin adds -t.

b. Notice :

That nauta and advena, when used as subjects, end in -a;

That nauta and advena, when used as objects, end in -am.

b. That nauta and advena, when used as subjects in the Plural number end in -ae;

c. That nauta and advena, when used as objects in the Plural number end in -ās.

QUESTIONS.

37. Define and illustrate Singular number; Plural number. What is the Nominative case used for? The Accusative case? Divide into syllables and accent: hospitālītās, cōgnitiō, virum-que, requisitus.

LESSON V.

Rules ; Cases ; Inflection ; First Declension.

From the preceding lessons we deduce the following Rules:

38. Rule I. The Subject of a verb is in the Nominative.

39. Rule II. The Object of a verb is in the Accusative.

CASES.

40. Study carefully the following cases with their endings in both Singular and Plural, and what they denote:

NAMES.	SINGULAR.	DENOTING.	PLURAL.
Nominative,	-a,	Subject of verb,	-ae.
Genitive,	-ae,	of, or 's,	-ārum.
Dative,	-ae,	to, or for,	-īs.
Accusative,	-am,	Object of verb,	-ās.
Ablative,	-ā,	from, with, by,	-īs.

INFLECTION.

41. Changing the form of a word to show its relation to other words is called Inflection.

a. The Inflection of nouns, adjectives, and pronouns is called Declension.

b. The Inflection of verbs is called Conjugation.

42. The Stem of a word is that common part from which the changes of inflection are formed. In the First Declension, the stem ends in -a, as: poēta.

43. The Base of a word is that part which is not changed in inflection, as: poēt-.

FIRST DECLENSION.

44.porta, gate.

SINGULAR.	PLURAL.
N. porta, a gate.	portae, gates.
G. portae, of a gate, or, a gate's.	portārum, of gates, or, gates'.
D. portae, to or for a gate.	portis, to or for gates.
Ac. portam, a gate.	portās, gates.
Ab. portā, from, with, or by a gate.	portis, from, with, or by gates.

Like porta, decline nauta, advena, silva, puella, casa.

QUESTIONS.

45. Define Inflection, Declension, Conjugation. What is the Stem of a word? The Base? Give the names, endings, and meanings, of all the cases, Singular and Plural, of the First Declension. What is the use of changing the endings of nouns?

LESSON VI.

Gender; Genitive of Possession; Pronouns, Adverbs.

46. In English, there are three genders, viz., Masculine, Feminine, and Neuter.

a. The Masculine gender denotes males, as: man, boy.

b. The Feminine gender denotes females, as: woman, girl.

c. The Neuter gender denotes neither male nor female, as: book, table.

47. In Latin, also, there are these three genders; and males are always in the Masculine, and females in the Feminine gender. But there is this important difference — that many nouns which are Neuter in English are either Masculine, Feminine, or Neuter in Latin; their gender being determined by their ending rather than by their meaning; e.g., liber, book is Masculine; mēnsa, table is Feminine.

48. Gender Rule. Nouns of the First Declension are Feminine.

Exc. Nouns denoting males are Masculine, as: nauta, sailor.

GENITIVE OF POSSESSION.

49. Puella advenae casam vitat.

The girl	{	is avoiding	{	the cottage of the stranger.
		avoids		or
		does avoid		the stranger's cottage.

a. Notice that vitat may be translated avoids, is avoiding, or does avoid.

b. Observe that advenae is in the Genitive, and denotes that the stranger owned or possessed the cottage. Hence it is called the Genitive of Possession.

50. Rule III. The Genitive is used to denote Possession.

PRONOUNS.

51. A Pronoun is a word used instead of a noun; thus, in the sentence: John says that he will come, the pronoun he is used instead of repeating the noun John.

a. An Interrogative pronoun is one that may be used in asking questions, as: who? which?

ADVERBS.

52. An Adverb is a word used to modify a verb, an adjective, or another adverb, as: he fights bravely.

53.

QUESTIONS.

What is meant by Genitive of Possession? In what three ways may vītāt be translated? Define and illustrate Pronouns, Interrogative Pronouns, Adverbs. Decline: agricola, rosa, fābula.

LESSON VII.

Dative of the Indirect Object; Questions.

57. Agricola puellae rosam dat.

The farmer { gives a rose to the girl.

a. Observe that puellae is in the Dative, and denotes the object indirectly receiving the action of the verb. Hence it is called the Dative of the Indirect Object.

b. Care must be taken to distinguish the Indirect from the Direct object, as the preposition to is often omitted in English.

58. Rule IV. The Indirect Object of a verb is put in the Dative.

QUESTIONS.

59. Nōn-ne puellae advenās vitant? Do not girls avoid strangers? (Yes.) Num nautae aquam vitant? Do sailors avoid the water? (No.) Intrat-ne Iūlia casam? Is Julia entering the cottage?

Observe:

a. That when the speaker expects the answer "Yes," the word nōn-ne introduces the question.

b. That when he expects the answer "No," the Interrogative Particle num is used

c. That when he asks a question simply for information, the enclitic -ne is affixed to the most emphatic word in the sentence.

60. NOTE. The words my, his, her, its, our, your, their, are often omitted in Latin.

LESSON VIII.

Ablative of Separation; Conjunctions.

65. Advena puellam culpā liberat.

The stranger frees the girl from blame.

In the above sentence, culpā is in the Ablative, and denotes that the blame is taken away from the girl. Hence it is called the Ablative of Separation.

66. Rule V. The Ablative is used to denote Separation.

CONJUNCTIONS.

67. Conjunctions connect words, phrases, and clauses, as: John and James are good scholars, and often win prizes in school.

-----------------	----------------------------------	------------------

NOTE. For the sake of greater vividness, the verb in Latin, as in English, often represents something as taking place now, although in reality the time is past, as, Mox videt advenam. Soon he saw (lit. sees) a stranger.

RĒGĪNA BELGĀRUM.

69. Rēgīna Belgārum silvam habēbat. Ōlim convīva rēgīnae viā errat, et noctū silvam intrat. Vigiliae advenam vident et capiunt. Māne rēgīna convīvam catēnīs liberat. Sed vigiliās meritō culpā liberat, atque dīligentiam laudat.

QUESTIONS.

71. Illustrate the Ablative of Separation by an example of your own. What is a conjunction? Decline culpa, Belga, vigilia, catēna.

¹ The Plural of these verbs is formed, as in previous lessons, by adding -nt to the stem, as: habēbant (they) had, owned, possessed.

LESSON IX.

Second Declension — Nouns in -us; Vocative Case.

72. In the Second Declension, the stem ends in -o, as:
servo.

73. Gender Rule. Nouns of the Second Declension whose Nominative Singular ends in -us, -er, or -ir, are Masculine; those ending in -um are Neuter.

74. NOUNS IN -US.

servus, m., slave.

a. Observe that, in these sentences, the sailor and the slave are addressed. They are said to be in the Vocative Case.

b. Notice also that while nauta has the same ending as in its Nominative Singular, serve has an entirely distinct case ending in -e. See the following Rule:

76. Rule VI. The Vocative is used as the Case of

Address; it is always like the Nominative, except in the Singular of nouns ending in -us of the Second Declension, where it ends in -e.

QUESTIONS.

80. In what does the stem of the Second Declension end? Give the Gender Rule for Second Declension nouns. Give the endings of all the cases (Singular and Plural) of nouns in -us. Explain the use of the Vocative. Decline equus, cibus, amicus.

LESSON X.

Second Declension — Nouns in -um; Predicate Nominative; Prepositions.

81. servus, m., slave. templum, n., temple.

SINGULAR.

		CASE ENDINGS.
		M.	N.
N.	servus	templum	-us -um
G.	servī	templī	-ī
D.	servō	templō	-ō
Ac.	servum	templum	-um
Ab.	servō	templō	-ō

PLURAL.

N.	servi	templa	-ī -a
G.	servōrum	templōrum	-ōrum
D.	servis	templis	-is
Ac.	servōs	templa	-ōs -a
Ab.	servis	templis	-is

82. Observe that the declension of nouns in -um differs from that of nouns in -us only in the Nominative Singular and in the Nominative and Accusative Plural.

83. Nouns ending in -ius and -ium contract -iī of the Genitive Singular into a single -i, without changing the accent, as: fīī for fīīi, ingēnī for ingēnīi; so also the Vocative of names ending in -ius, and of filius and genius, as: Vergīī for Vergīi; mī fīī = my son.

PREDICATE NOMINATIVE.

84. The Predicate in a sentence is what is said of the subject.

	SUBJECT.	PREDICATE.	SUBJECT.	PREDICATE.
a.	Carolus agricolam	vītat.	Charles	avoids the farmer.
b.	Carolus est	nauta.	Charles	is a sailor.

Observe :

c. That, in the Predicate of example (a), vītat — a verb of action — takes an object in the Accusative case, according to Rule II.

d. That, in the Predicate of example (b), est — a verb of being — cannot take an object; and that nauta, since it describes the subject, is put in the same case as the subject.

85. Rule VII. A Predicate noun, describing the subject, is put in the Nominative.

PREPOSITIONS.

86. A Preposition shows the relation between words. Thus, in the sentence: The book is lying on the table, on is a preposition, showing the relation between is lying and table. In Latin, prepositions are followed by the Accusative or Ablative.

87. The following prepositions are followed by the Ablative:

*Ā, ab, absque, cōram, dē, Palam, clam, cum, ex and ē, Prō, prae, tenus and sine;
Sometimes in, sub, super, subter.*

All other prepositions are followed by the Accusative.

NOTE. The teacher should now explain the use of the Vocabulary.

FUNDUS.

88. Nōn procul ab oppidō est fundus. Agricolae villā est prope fluvium. Carolus est agricolae filiū. Vicinī filiū est Flōrus. Carolus et Flōrus sunt amīcī. Interdum in fluviō natant. Saepe trāns fluvium prāta pererrant, et agricolārū equōs et vaccās spectant. In horreō post villam est cōpia frūmentī et pābulī. Iūlia est filia agricolae. Equīs faenum saepe dat.

89. 1. Farmers' houses are sometimes near rivers.
2. Charles and Albert are sons of the farmer.
3. The farmer is looking at the horses in the barn.
4. Albert is wandering through the meadow. 5.
(There) is an abundance of hay in farmers' barns.

6. Julia is the slave's friend. 7. The slave is giving hay to the farmer's horse.

QUESTIONS.

90. How do Neuters of the Second Declension differ from Masculines? Accent the Vocative Singular of Pompēius, Lūcius, filius. Accent the Genitive Singular of hospitium. What is a Predicate noun? Define Preposition. What prepositions are followed by the Ablative? Decline oppidum, villa, fluvius, faenum, vicinus.

LESSON XI.

Adjectives in -us, -a, -um; Ablative of Means.

91. An Adjective describes a noun, as: a bad boy.

Bonus servus.

A good slave.

Bonārum puellārum.

Of good girls.

Bonō pōmō.

With a good apple.

a. Observe that, while in English the adjective does not change, in Latin its ending varies according to the gender, number, and case of the noun it describes. With adjectives in -us, -a, -um, if the noun is Masculine, the adjective has the endings of a Second Declension noun in -us. If the noun is Feminine, the adjective has the First Declension endings. If the noun is Neuter, the adjective has the endings of a Second Declension noun in -um.

92. Rule VIII. An Adjective agrees with the noun it describes in gender, number, and case.

93. bonus, bona, bonum, good.

SINGULAR.

G.	bonōrum	bonārum	bonōrum
D.	bonīs	bonīs	bonīs
Ac.	bonōs	bonās	bona
Ab.	bonīs	bonīs	bonīs

94. The Vocative of adjectives, like that of nouns, is always like the Nominative, except in the Singular of adjectives of the Second Declension in -us, where it ends in -e, as:

Bonae rēginae. O good queens. Bone vicīne. O good neighbor.

95. Decline together: parvus nīdus, a small nest; saeva aquila, a fierce eagle; longum collum, a long neck; malus agricola, a bad farmer.

ABLATIVE OF MEANS.

96. Gladiō nautam necat. He slays the sailor with a sword.

Observe that gladiō is in the Ablative, and is the means by which the sailor was slain. Hence it is called the Ablative of Means.

97. Rule IX. The Ablative without a preposition is used to denote the means by which an action is done.

CŶGNUS.

98. Americānī cŷgnī sunt albī. Cŷgnī collum est longum; rōstrum est fīrmum; ālae sunt praevalidae; oculī sunt parvī. Cŷgnōrum cibus est herba. Interdum parvās rānās et insecta dēvorant. Nīdī sunt in iuncīs iūxtā aquam. Ferus cŷgnus est valdē saevus. Et rōstrō et ālīs ācriter pūgnat, sī quid ad nīdum appropīnquat. Etiam aquilam fugat.

b. Notice that the endings of adjectives in -er, -a, -um, differ from those in -us, -a, -um only in the Masculine Nominative Singular.

104. Like miser, decline asper, rough, liber, free, prōsper, prosperous, and tener, tender.

a. Most other adjectives drop the -e, like pulcher.

b. Like pulcher, decline piger, lazy, and ruber, red.

APPOSITION.

(1). Carolus, filius Titi, nāvigat. Charles, the son of Titus, is sailing.

(2). Agricola Flōrum, servum, laudat. The farmer praises Florus, the slave.

Note:

a. That, in example (1), filius describes Carolus, and is in the same case.

b. That, in example (2), servum describes Flōrum, and is in the same case.

c. That, in both examples, the descriptive noun is placed near the noun it describes. It is therefore called a Noun in Apposition. (Ad — position, i. e., position near.)

THE CONJUGATIONS.

127. Regular verbs are divided into four conjugations. Each of these has a characteristic vowel in the stem, as follows :

- b. II. Conjugation, -ē : as, monē-, warn.
- c. III. Conjugation, -e : as, rege-, rule.

So also cae-dēs, Genitive cae-dis, is an i stem; but co-mes, Genitive co-mi-tis, is a consonant stem.

ATALANTA.

204. Atalanta fuit celerrima mortālium. Diū propter ōrāculum coniugium vitābat. Schœneus, virginis pater, procōs filiae sic monēbat: “Sī victor certāmine pedum eris, tum filiam meam in mātirimōnium dūcēs. Sed mors estō pretium tarditātis.” Nihilō minus Atalantæ multī procī fuērunt. Nam fuit pulcherrima virgō. Itaque multī ex foedere poenam pendēbant. Dēnique Hippomenēs virginem in mātirimōnium petit. Ante certāmen autem ā Venere auxilium ōrat. Inde dea iuvenī tria aurea pōma dat.

205. 1. Notwithstanding, the maidens had many suitors. 2. Had you been a victor in the races? 3. Many of the maidens were most beautiful. 4. Hippomenes will be the victor in the foot-race. 5. 206. Intereā undique ad certāmen conveniunt. Mox tubae sīgnum dant. Ūnā cursōrēs carcere ēmicant et clāmōribus multitudinis pariter volant. Tum Hippomenēs, dum meta longē abest, ūnum dē tribus pōmīs mittit. Virgō cupīdine aurī dēclīnat, tollitque nitidum pōmum. Intereā Hippomenēs primum locum tenet. Mox tamen Atalanta moram corrigit. Inde iuvenis secundum pōmum mittit, sed nēquiquam. Iam ad metam appropīnquābant. “Nunc” inquit Hippomenēs “ades, ō dea.” Inde tertium pōmum mittit. Atalanta dubitat, dēclīnat, atque Hippomenēs victor ēmicat, habetque praemium.

207. 1. Cūr Atalanta coniugium vītābat? 2. Quō modo Schoeneus procōs filiae monēbat? 3. Num multī poenam pendēbant? 4. Quis dēnique virginem in mātīmōnium petit? 5. Quid Venus iuvenī dat? 6. Dum meta longē abest, quid facit Hippomenēs? 7. Num virgō cupīdine pōmī dēclīnat? 8. Corrigitne moram? 9. Quid deinde facit Hippomenēs? 10. Ubi tertium pōmum mittit? 11. Quis fuit victor?

a. Most verbs of the Second Conjugation form the Perfect stem by changing final -s of the Present stem to -u, thus monē- becomes monu-; but there are many exceptions which should be carefully studied. Notice the stems of sedeō and videō in the following paragraph.

C. MŪCIUS SCAEVOLA.

220. Diū Porsena Rōmam obsēderat. Māxima inopia cibī in urbe erat. Dēnique C. Mūcius, adulēscēns nōbilis, in castra hostium penetrāvit. Ibi prope rēgium tribūnal ingentem turbam vīdit. Scriba cum rēge sedēbat, atque stīpendium mīlitibus dabat. Diū Mūcius dubitābat; nam figurāe rēgis īnscius erat. Dēnique scribam prō rēge obtruncat. Satelītēs rēgis audācem iuvenem comprehendunt retrahuntque ante tribūnal. Iūssīs rēgis, līgna Mūciō circumdant, atque ignīs parant.

Rēx, dē suā salūte commōtus, cōpiās dēdūcit, et agrō Rōmānō excēdit. Posteā Mūcius, ā clāde dextrae, cōgnōmen Scaevola habuit.

a. Notice that the stem ends in -u: hence this is sometimes called the -u Declension.

b. Observe that domus has several forms of the Second Declension, and that the Second Declension form is preferred to the Fourth in the Ablative Singular and in the Accusative Plural.

226. Gender Rule. Most nouns of the Fourth Declension ending in -us are Masculine; those ending in -ū are Neuter.

a. The formation of the Perfect stem in the Third Conjugation is very irregular. Notice the following ways of forming the Perfect stem:

1. Adding s to the root: reg- + s = rēx-, dūc- + s = dūx-, lūd- + s = lūs-.
2. Reduplication (prefixing the first two letters to the root): cu + curr- = cucurr-, pe + pell- = pepul-.
3. Lengthening the vowel of the root: em-, ēm-; ag-ēg-; vinc-, vīc-.
4. Adding -u to the root: al- + u = alu-, col- + u = colu-.
5. By adding -iv to the root: pet- + iv = petiv-, quaer- + iv = quaesiv-.
6. Retaining the root: ru-, ru-: vert-, vert-.

DUO EQUITĒS.

b. Only diēs and rēs have all the cases in the Plural. Most nouns of this declension are declined in the Singular only, but a few have also the Nominative and Accusative Plural.

c. Contrary to the rule, in the Genitive and Dative Singular the vowel -e is long before -i, except in rēs, spēs, and fidēs. See § 8, b.

237. ACCUSATIVE OF TIME HOW LONG.

Multōs annōs caecus fuit. He was blind many years.

Observe that annōs is in the Accusative, and that it answers the question, How long? It is therefore called the Accusative of time how long.

238. Rule XVI. The Accusative is used to denote time how long.

PRŌSERPINA.

239. In Siciliā quondam Prōserpina, fīlia Cereris, in lūcō flōrēs carpēbat. Subitō Plūtōnis currus ad lūcum celeriter appropinquat. Deus pulchram deam videt atque statim dīligit. Nec ūlla mora est. QUESTIONS.

276. In what two ways may this thing be translated? (Ans. [1] Ea res, [2] id.) Decline together: ea res; idem cōsiliū; tū ipse. Inflect dividō in all tenses of the Indicative and Imperative Passive. Translate: relinquēmini, relinquitur, relictī sumus, relinquuntur, reliota eram, relinquēbāris; it has been left, I shall be left, you (plural) will have been left, these things were being left, you (singular) are left.

LESSON XXXI.

Relative, Interrogative, and Indefinite Pronouns; Passive of Fourth Conjugation.

277. quī, who, which.

	SINGULAR.		PLURAL.
N. quī	quae quod	quī	quae quae
G.	cūius	quōrum	quārum quōrum
D.	cui		quibus
Ac. quem	quam quod	quōs	quās quae
Ab. quō	quā quō		quibus

278. INTERROGATIVE PRONOUN.

quis, who? which? what?

N. quis (quī)	quae quid (quod)	quī	quae quae
G.	cūius	quōrum	quārum quōrum
D.	cui		quibus
Ac. quem	quam quid (quod)	quōs	quās quae
Ab. quō	quā quō		quibus

INDEFINITE PRONOUNS.

1. aliquis (-quī), aliqua, aliquid (-quod), some one, any one, some, any.

2. quis (quī), quae, quid (quod), some one, any one, some, any.

3. quidam, quaedam, quiddam (quoddam), certain one, certain.

4. quisque, quaeque, quidque (quodque), each one, every.

5. quisquam, —, quidquam (no plural), any one.

a. In the Interrogative and Indefinite pronouns, the forms quis and quid are generally used as nouns, the forms quī and quod as adjectives, thus: Quis scribit? Who is writing? Quī puer scribit? What boy is writing? This is also true of compounds of quis.

b. The compounds are declined like the simple pronouns, except that in quidam, m changes to n before d, as: quendam. Aliquis has aliqua in the Feminine Nominative Singular, and also in the Neuter Nominative and Accusative Plural.

c. The Indefinite pronoun quis is chiefly used with sī, nisi, nē, and num, and then means any one, any.

USE OF THE RELATIVE PRONOUN.

1. Tū, quī epistolam scripsisti, poenās solvēs. You, who wrote the letter, shall pay the penalty.

2. Mulier, quam dēfenderam, mea māter fuit. The woman, whom I had defended, was my mother.

In the first example, observe that the Relative pronoun quī agrees with its antecedent (the word to which it refers) in gender, number, and person. For quī is Masculine in form, and it is followed by its verb scripsisti in the Second person and Singular number.

In like manner, observe that quam in the second example agrees with mulier in being Feminine Third Singular. But notice that in both examples the case of the pronoun is not determined by the case of its antecedent, but by its relation to the other words in the clause in which it stands. For quī, as the subject of scripsisti, is in the Nominative case; while quam, as the object of dēfenderam, is in the Accusative case.

281. Rule XIX. A Relative pronoun agrees with its antecedent in gender, number, and person; but its case depends on the construction of the clause in which it stands.

OBSIDIŌ VĒIŌRUM.

283. Post proelium ad lacum Rēgillum, Rōmānī cum fīnitimīs oppidīs multa bella gerēbant; quōrum clārissimum est obsidiō Vēiōrum. Id oppidum et nātūrā locī et manū ēgregiē mūnītum est. Decem annōs Rōmānī ēius moenia obsidēbant, sed frūstrā. Dēnique mīrum prōdigium ēvēnit, quod animōs omnium māgnoperē perturbāvit. Nam aqua in lacū Albānō in altitūdinem īnsolitam crēvit, atque fīnitimōs agrōs inundāvit. Deinde vātēs quīdam Vēiēns sīc cecinit: “Numquam Rōmānī Vēiōs expūgnābunt, priusquam aqua ex lacū Albānō ēmīssa erit.” Lēgātī ab Rōmānīs ad ōrāculum Delphīcum mīssī sunt. Quibus ā deō sīc respōnsum est: “Sī aqua ex lacū Albānō in mare īnfluet, Vēiōs nōn occupābitis.”

284. 1. The Romans have taken the town, whose walls they have besieged for ten years. 2. If any water is (shall have been) let out of the Alban Lake, Veii will never be captured. 3. Some of the neighboring towns are admirably fortified. 4. What god

QUESTIONS.

287. Decline quī; quis. What is the meaning of quīdam, quisquam, aliquis, quisque, quis? Illustrate the use of the two forms found in quis and its compounds. What irregularity occurs in the declension of quīdam? of aliquis? How is quis chiefly used? Illustrate the rule for the use of the Relative pronoun. Inflect mūniō in all tenses of the Indicative and Imperative Passive. Translate: audita erant, audior, audimini, audita est, auditor, auditi sumus; I was heard, you have been heard, be thou heard, we have been heard, he will be heard.

LESSON XXXII.

Regular Comparison; Declension of Comparatives; Ablative with Comparatives.

288. Adjectives undergo a change in form in order to express different degrees of quality. Thus in English we say: a tall tree, a taller tree, the tallest tree; i.e., starting with the simple adjective, — which is said to be in the positive degree, — we add -er to form the comparative degree, and -est to form the superlative degree, as:

POSITIVE.	COMPARATIVE.	SUPERLATIVE.
tall,	taller,	tallest.

Now observe the Latin: .

REGULAR COMPARISON.

POSITIVE.	COMPARATIVE.	SUPERLATIVE.
lātus (stem lāto-), wide.	lātior, -ius, wider.	lātissimus, -a, -um, widest.
fortis (stem forti-), brave.	fortior, -ius, braver.	fortissimus, -a, -um, bravest.
audāx (stem audāc-), bold.	audācior, -ius, bolder.	audācissimus, -a, -um, boldest.
sapiēns (stem sapient-), wise.	sapientior, -ius, wiser.	sapientissimus, -a, -um, wisest.

a. Observe that the comparative is formed by adding -ior, -ius, to the stem of the adjective, and the superlative by adding -issimus, -a, -um, dropping the final vowel of the stem, if there is any.

b. Compare gravis, heavy, atrōx, fierce, longus, long, prūdēns, prudent, fēlix, happy, altus, high, levis, light.

290. In English, when it would not sound well to compare the adjective by adding -er and -est, we prefix the adverbs more and most, as: beautiful, more beautiful, most beautiful. Likewise in Latin some adjectives are compared by prefixing the adverbs magis, more, and māximē, most, as: idōneus, suitable, magis idōneus, more suitable, māximē idōneus, most suitable.

DECLENSION OF COMPARATIVES.

lātior, wider.	plūs, more.
Stem lātiōr-	Stem plūr-

SINGULAR.

	MASC. and FEM.	NEUTER.		MASC. and FEM.	NEUTER.
N.	lātiōr	lātius		_____	plūs
G.	lātiōris			_____	plūris
D.	lātiōrī			_____	_____
Ac.	lātiōrem	lātius		_____	plūs
Ab.	lātiōre	or-i		_____	plūre

PLURAL.

N.	lātiōrēs	lātiōra	plūrēs	plūra
G.	lātiōrum		plūrium
D.	lātiōribus		plūribus
Ac.	lātiōrēs (-īs)	lātiōra	plūris (-ēs)	plūra
Ab.	lātiōribus		plūribus

a. Comparatives are declined like lātiōr. Notice how closely the declension of comparatives resembles that of consonant stems, differing in this respect from other adjectives of the Third Declension. See § 218, a.

b. Superlatives are declined like bonus.

c. The comparative may sometimes be translated rather, as: Dūrior iūdex erat, He was a rather severe judge.

d. The superlative may sometimes be translated very, as: Dūriissimus iūdex erat, He was a very severe judge.

292. ABLATIVE WITH COMPARATIVES.

1. Caesar erat fortior quam Cicerō. Caesar was braver than Cicero.

2. Caesar erat fortior Cicerōne. Caesar was braver than Cicero.

Notice that in the first example, where quam (than) is used, Cicerō is in the same case as Caesar, the word with which it is compared. But in the second example, where quam is omitted, Cicerōne is in the Ablative case.

293. Rule XX. The comparative degree is followed by the Ablative when quam is omitted.

NOTE. — Quam may be omitted only when the first of the compared words is either in the Nominative or Accusative case.

THESEUS.

294. Thēseus ā suā māt̄re in urbe Troezēne ēducātus est. Nam, ubi etiam parvulus erat, ēius pater Aegeus, quī imperium Athēnārū habuit, uxōrem dēseruerat et suum rēgnū repetīverat. Prīmō Thēseus lūdīcrīs certāminibus vīrēs auxit. Mox erat validior cēterīs iuvenibus ēiusdem aetātis. Deinde in vēnātiōne saltūs peragrābat. Semper prīnceps in periculō erat atque fortissimus armīs. Nēmō ex omnibus Argolicīs iuvenibus iaculō levibusque sagittīs celerior erat. Complūrīs ferās occīdit, sed māximē saevissimam suam, quae agrōs diū vāstābat. Iam nōmen Thēseī per tōtam terram Argolicam clārissimum erat.

295. 1. This young man will be braver than his father. 2. Several very fierce wild beasts had been slain by Theseus. 3. Are not the young man's arrows rather light? 4. These young men were most famous throughout the kingdom. 5. Was there any one braver in danger than Theseus?

Sight Translation. THĒSEUS. — Continued.

296. Tandem māter Thēseī eum ad sē vocāvit, atque patris gladium soleāsque eī ostendit. “Sūme, mī fili,” inquit “haec monumenta, et tuum patrem pete, quem in urbe Athēnīs reperiēs. Periculōsa et ā latrōnibus infesta est via. Tamen deī tē incolumem per omnia pericula ad tuum patrem dūcent.” Inde Thēseus maestus mātrem suam reliquit, atque mox ad Atticam contendēbat. Quō in itinere prope Epidaurum obviam vēnit cuīdam saevissimō latrōnī, Periphētae nōmine, quī ferreā clāvā viātōrēs occidēbat. At Thēseus dē ēius manibus clāvam extorsit, et ipsius telō eum occidit.

297. 1. Cūr Thēseus ā suā mātrem educātus est? 2. Quō modo vīrēs auxit? 3. Num quis fuit ex Argolicīs iuvenibus fortior quam Thēseus? 4. Quid in vēratiōne occidit Thēseus? 5. Quae monumenta pater ēius reliquerat? 6. Ubi habitābat pater Thēseī? 7. Quam ob rem erat via ad Atticam periculōsa? 8. Cuī Thēseus obviam vēnit prope Epidaurum? 9. Quō modo Thēseus latrōnem occidit?

solea, sandal. (Sole.)

in-festus, made unsafe, IN-FESTED.

Attica, a province of Greece.

Epidaurus, a city of Argolis.

 vious.)

Periphētēs, a robber.

ferreus, iron.

clāva, club.

viātor, traveller.

ex-torqueō, twist out. (Ex-

QUESTIONS.

298. How are adjectives regularly compared in Latin? Decline plūs. Decline together audācior servus; fortior fēmina; gravius bellum; saevisissimus leō. How may the Comparative sometimes be translated? The Superlative? State and illustrate the rule for the Ablative with Comparatives. Translate in two ways: "Who was braver than Caesar?" When may quam be omitted?

LESSON XXXIII.

Irregular Comparison; Ablative of Degree of Difference.

299.

ADJECTIVES IN -ER.

POSITIVE.	COMPARATIVE.	SUPERLATIVE.
miser (stem misero), wretched .	miserior, -ius, more wretched .	miserrimus, -a, -um, most wretched .
ācer (stem ācri), sharp .	ācrior, -ius, sharper .	ācerrimus, -a, -um, sharpest .

Observe that adjectives in -er form the Superlative by adding -rimus, -a, -um to the Masculine Nominative Singular. Compare celer, swift, pulcher, beautiful, asper, rough.

ADJECTIVES IN -LIS.

POSITIVE.	COMPARATIVE.	SUPERLATIVE.
facilis, easy .	facilior, -ius.	facillimus, -a, -um.
difficilis, difficult .	difficilior, -ius.	difficillimus, -a, -um.
similis, like .	similior, -ius.	simillimus, -a, -um.
dissimilis, unlike .	dissimilior, -ius.	dissimillimus, -a, -um.
gracilis, slender .	gracilior, -ius.	gracillimus, -a, -um.
humilis, low .	humilior, -ius.	humillimus, -a, -um.

Observe that these six adjectives in -lis form the superlative by adding -limus, -a, -um, to the stem minus the stem vowel.

301. ADJECTIVES WITH DOUBLE SUPERLATIVE.

POSITIVE.	COMPARATIVE.	SUPERLATIVE.
exterus , outward.	exterior , outer.	extrēmus , extimus , outmost.

superus , upper.	superior , higher.	suprēmus , summus , top of, highest.

302. ADJECTIVES WITH NO POSITIVE.

[cis, citrā, adv., on this side.]	citerior , hither.	cītimus , hithermost.
[in, intrā, prep., in, within.]	interior , inner.	ītimus , inmost.

multi , many.	plūrēs , more.	plūrimī , most.

304. ABLATIVE OF DEGREE OF DIFFERENCE.

1. Arbor sex pedibus altior est quam turris. The tree is (by) six feet higher than the tower.

2. Crassus multō divitior erat Caesare. Crassus was (by) much richer than Caesar.

In the first example, the Ablative sex pedibus exactly expresses the difference between the height of the tree and that of the tower. In the second example, the Ablative multō is an indefinite expression of the difference between the wealth of Crassus and that of Caesar. Such ablatives are called Ablatives of Degree of Difference.

305. Rule XXI. The Ablative is used to express the Degree of Difference.

THĒSEUS ET LATRŌNĒS.

• 306. *Paucīs post diēbus Thēseus in extrēmum perīculum vēnit. Iam ad Isthmum appropinquābat. Hic propter angustias difficillimum erat iter. Hic multō gravior hostis erat quam Periphētēs. Hic enim duās prōcērās pīnūs ad terram curvābat, ad quās incautōs viātōrēs adligābat. | pulcher (stem pulchro-), beautiful . | pulchrē , beautifully . |

Observe that adverbs are formed from adjectives of the Second Declension by changing the final -o of the stem to -ē.

|--|--------------------------------------|
| ācer (stem ācri-), sharp . | ācriter , sharply . |
| prūdēns (stem prūdēt-), prudent . | prūdentē , prudently . |

Observe that adverbs are formed from adjectives of the Third Declension by adding -ter to the stem. Stems in -nt drop -t before adding -ter.

FORMATION AND COMPARISON OF ADVERBS. 111

c. (1). multus, much .	multum, much .
(2). facilis, easy .	facile, easily .
(3). subitus, sudden .	subitō, suddenly .

The Neuter Accusative Singular of the adjective is sometimes used as an adverb, as in examples (1) and (2). Likewise the Ablative, as in example (3).

312. COMPARISON OF ADVERBS.

POSITIVE.	COMPARATIVE.	SUPERLATIVE.
lātē, widely .	lātius, more widely .	lātissimē, most widely .
graviter, heavily .	gravius, more heavily .	gravissimē, most heavily .

Notice that the comparative of the adverb is the same as the Neuter comparative of the adjective. The superlative of the adverb is formed from the superlative of the adjective by changing the final -o of the stem to -ē. If the adjective is irregular, the adverb will show the same irregularities. Learn the following:

313. COMPARISON OF IRREGULAR ADVERBS.

bene, well .	melius, better .	optimē, best .
male, ill .	pēius, worse .	pessimē, worst .
multum, much .	plūs, more .	plūrimum, most .
_____	magis, more .	māximē, most .
parum, not enough .	minus, less .	minimē, least .

314. GENITIVE AND ABLATIVE OF CHARACTERISTIC.

1. Vir māgnae virtūtis. A man of great valor.
2. Vir fuit humili statūrā. He was a man of short stature.

Observe that, in the first example, virtūtis is in the Genitive, and that, in connection with the adjective māgnae, it expresses a characteristic or quality of the man. But notice that, in the second example, a physical characteristic or quality is expressed by statūrā, with an accompanying adjective, in the Ablative case. Physical characteristics are always thus expressed by the Ablative. Other qualities by either the Genitive or Ablative.

315. Rule XXII. The Genitive and Ablative are used, with a modifying adjective, to denote a characteristic or quality.

THĒSEUS ET LATRŌNĒS.

316. Scīrōn erat ingentī māgnitūdine corporis atque terribilī aspectū. In quem tamen Thēseus cum ferrō audācissimē invāsīt. Diū atque ācritēr pūgnātum est. Haud ita multō post Thēseus in Atticam pervēnit, atque ibi Cercyonem lūctāmine vīcīt necāvitque. Sīc Thēseus perditīs hominibus latrōnibusque omnis generis līberābat omnīs terrās, per quās in itinere contendēbat.

317. 1. The travellers had been hurled down to the bottom of the cliffs. 2. Sciron killed travellers much more cruelly than Cercyon. 3. Theseus used to attack robbers of every kind most fiercely.

4. Are not robbers men of frightful appearance?
5. The land, through which Theseus is hastening, will be freed from many desperate robbers.

QUESTIONS.

320. How are adverbs formed from adjectives of the Second Declension? Of the Third Declension? What cases of adjectives are sometimes used as adverbs? How are adverbs compared? Form and compare adverbs from the following adjectives: acer, facilis, malus, lātus, multus, gravis, parvus, pulcher, bonus, prūdēns. Explain the use of the Genitive and Ablative of Characteristic. 100,000. centum mīlia	centiēs mīllēsīmus
1,000,000. deciēs centēna mīlia	deciēs centiēs mīllēsīmus

a. The cardinals from quattuor to centum are indeclinable. The hundreds are declined like the plural of bonus. The ordinals are declined throughout like bonus.

322.	duo, two.			trēs, three.
	MASC.	FEM.	NEUT.	M. and F.	N.
N.	duo	duae	duo	trēs	tria
G.	duōrum	duārum	duōrum		trium
D.	duōbus	duābus	duōbus		tribus
Ac.	duōs, duo	duās	duo	trīs (trēs)	tria
Ab.	duōbus	duābus	duōbus		tribus

a. In the Singular, mīle is generally an adjective; but the Plural mīlia is a Neuter noun, and is followed by the Partitive Genitive, as: mīle hominēs, a thousand men, but duo mīlia hominum, two thousand men (lit. two thousands of men).

NINE IRREGULAR ADJECTIVES.

323. The following nine adjectives end in -ius in the Genitive Singular and in -i in the Dative in all genders. They are regular in the Plural.

alius , another.	ūnus , one.	alter , the other.
sōlus , alone.	ūllus , any.	uter , which (of two).
tōtus , whole.	nūllus , none.	neuter , neither.

a. Alius and ūnus are thus declined in the Singular.

	MASC.	FEM.	NEUT.	MASC.	FEM.	NEUT.
N.	alius	alia	aliud	ūnus	ūna	ūnum
G.		alius			ūnius
D.		aliī			ūnī
Ac.	aliū	aliā	aliud	ūnū	ūnā	ūnū
Ab.	aliō	aliā	aliō	ūnō	ūnā	ūnō

NOTE. — Alius is the only one of these adjectives that ends in -ud in the Neuter.

324. PARTITIVE GENITIVE.

Trēs militum. Three of the soldiers.

a. Observe that militum is in the Genitive, and denotes the entire number of which a part is taken. It is called the Partitive Genitive.

325. Rule XXIII. The Genitive is used to denote the whole of which a part is taken.

SUPELLEX DOMŪS RŌMĀNAE.

326. Et in ātriō domūs Rŏmānae et in peristylō, dē quibus suprà scripsimus, exigua erat supellex. In tricliniō autem semper erat mēsa, aut quadra aut orbis. Convīvae circum mēnsam in sellīs nōn cōnsidēbant. Sed ex tribus mēnsae lateribus erant lectī, in quibus novem convīvae accumbēbant, trēs in quōque lectō. Līgnea aut aenea erat sponda lectī in quam torus et cervical et vestēs strāgulae impositae sunt.

327. 1. Six guests are reclining on two of the couches. 2. Is not the furniture in the dining-room very expensive? 3. He is writing of two chairs, of which the price of one is five hundred sesterces, of the other, seven hundred and fifty. 4. (There) were twelve chairs in each dining-room. 5. The price of this table is one hundred thousand sesterces.

328. Lectus cubiculāris erat altior quam lectus tricliniāris et scamnō ascendēbātur.

Varia erant genera sellārum in domibus Rŏmānīs; sed cathedra, in quā fēminae plērumque sedēbant, erat simillima nostrīs sellīs. Omnium sellārum insignissima erat eburnea sella curūlis curvīs pedibus, in quā quīdam magistrātūs solī sedēbant.

Pulcherrimae erant lucernae Rōmānōrum, quārum multa exempla adhūc exstant. Aliae fictilēs, aliae erant aeneae, sed omnēs summā arte perfectae. Lucernae, aut in mēnsās aut in alta candēlābra impōnēbantur, aut etiam laqueāribus dēpendēbant. Nōn autem clāram lūcem praebēbant.

329. 1. Erantne multa supellex in ātriō domūs Rōmānae? 2. Quālis mēnsa erat in tricliniō? 3. Quae erant ex tribus mēnsae lateribus? 4. Quot convivae in quōque lectō accumbēbant? 5. Erantne lectī Rōmānōrum similēs nostrīs lectīs? 6. Quālis erat lectus cubiculāris? 7. Quid erat nōmen sellae, in quā fēminae sedēbant? 8. Quālis erat sella curūlis? 9. Quālēs lucernae erant Rōmānīs? 10. Ubi impōnēbantur? 11. Nōne clāram lūcem praebēbant?

of the cardinals are indeclinable? How are the ordinals declined? What of mille in the Singular, and in the Plural? Give an example of the Partitive Genitive, the Ablative of Comparison, and the Ablative of Degree of Difference.

LESSON XXXVI.

Infinitives; Complementary Infinitive; Expressions of Place.

331. The Infinitive mood has neither person nor number, and has but three tenses, the Present, Perfect, and Future. The sign of the Infinitive in English is to.

332.

ACTIVE INFINITIVES.

VERB SUM.

PRES.	es-se, to be .
PERF.	fu-isse, to have been .
FUT.	fut-ūrus, -a, -um esse (or fore) }, to be about to be .

CONJ. I.

PRES.	amā-re, to love .
PERF.	amāv-isse, to have loved .
FUT.	amāt-ūrus, -a, -um esse } , to be about to love .

CONJ. II.

CONJ. III.

CONJ. IV.

PRES.	monē-re.	rege-re.	audī-re.
PERF.	monu-isse.	rēx-isse.	audīv-isse.
FUT.	monit-ūrus, -a, -um esse.	rēct-ūrus, -a, -um esse.	audīt-ūrus, -a, -um esse.

Observe:

a. That in the Active voice the Present Infinitive is formed by adding -re to the Present stem. (Note the irregularity in the verb sum.)

b. That the Perfect is formed by adding -isse to the Perfect stem.

c. That the Future is formed by adding -ūrus, -a, -um esse to the Participial stem.

333. COMPLEMENTARY INFINITIVE.

Cupit dīcere, He desires to speak.

Notice that the Infinitive dīcere completes the meaning of cupit. Hence it is called the Complementary Infinitive.

334. PLACE WHERE. LOCATIVE CASE.

In Italiā. In Italy.

Athēnīs. At Athens.

In Africā. In Africa.

Observe that oppidō, Italiā, and Africā are in the Ablative with the preposition in, and that they denote the place where. But notice that the names of towns denoting place where omit the preposition, and are put in the Locative Case. This in the Singular of nouns of the First and Second Declension is like the Genitive; elsewhere, it is like the Ablative. Account for the form of Rōmae, Athēnīs, and Curibus.

335. Rule XXIV. Place where is expressed by the Ablative with the preposition in. Names of towns are put in the Locative.

336. PLACE TO WHICH.

In Italiā. To Italy.

Rōmam. To Rome.

Ad flūmen. To the river.

Delphōs. To Delphi.

337. Rule XXV. Place to which is expressed by the Accusative with ad or in. Names of towns omit the preposition.

338.

PLACE FROM WHICH.

Ex oppidō. From the town. Rōmā. From Rome.

Ab Italiā. From Italy. Corinthō. From Corinth.

339. Rule XXVI. Place from which is expressed by the Ablative with ab or ex. Names of towns omit the preposition.

NOTE. — Names of small islands, domus, home, and rūs, country, are used like names of towns, as: Cypri est, He is at Cyprus; Mox domum veniet, He will soon come home; Rūs ibō, I shall go into the country.

THĒSEUS ET AEGEUS.

340. Intereā rēx Aegeus venēficam Mēdēam, quae Athēnās nūper vēnerat, in mātirimōnium dūxerat. Ex eā autem nullōs liberōs habuit. Quam ob rem vīgintī filiī Pallantis, frātris Aegeī, rēgnum sibi occupāre cōstituērunt. Hīs hominibus ea coniūratiō prōsperē ēvēnit. Nam rēgem cum Mēdēā in rēgiam sē recipere cōgunt, atque ipsī cīvitatē regunt. Athēnīs in hōc statū erant rēs, ubi Thēseus in urbem vēnit. Sine morā iuvenis ad Aegeī rēgiam contendit, atque tandem aditum ad patrem habuit. Sed Aegeus hunc iuvenem, quī Troezēne vēnerat, nōn āgnōvit. Quīn etiam eum prō hoste habuit, atque cōnsiliō uxōris eī vīnum dedit, quō Mēdēā venēnum miscuerat.

341. 1. The king's palace was at Athens. 2. Was Aegeus compelled to marry a sorceress? 3. Affairs were in this condition at Troezen when he determined to seize the kingdom. 4. Theseus hastened from Troezen to Athens. 5. The king will compel Medea to mix the poison with the wine.

At Aegeus ingentī gaudiō complēbātur, quod suus fīlius incolumis erat, atque eum in rēgiam laetissimus accēpit. Postquam Thēseus dē omnibus periculīs itineris nārrāvit, et pater et fīlius deīs immortālibus grātiās agunt, et ārās dōnīs cumulant. Intereā vīgintī fīliī Pallantis dē adventū Thēseī audiverant, atque pūgnāre parābant. Ācerrimē Thēseus impetum in eōs fēcit, cūctōsque ex urbe expulit. Brevī posteā Aegeus palam Thēsea suum fīlium āgnōvit. Quam ob rem māgna laetitia erat per tōtam urbem.

Quō modo rēx Thēsea accēpit? 10. Num filiī Pallantis laetī erant, ubi dē adventū Thēseī audīvērunt? 11. Vicitne Thēseus eōs? 12. Cūr brevī postea māgna erat laetitia Athēnīs?

QUESTIONS.

344. How does the Infinitive differ from other moods? How are the tenses of the Active Infinitive formed in Latin? Give the Active Infinitives, Latin and English, of parō, doceō, scribō, mūniō. Give the Infinitives of sum. What is meant by the Complementary Infinitive? State the rules for place where, place to which, and place from which. What is the Locative case? Translate: At Delphi; from Rome to Corinth; at home; from Greece to Cyprus; we were hastening into the country. Compare the following: summus, melior, imius, multus, proximus, similis, miser, primus.

LESSON XXXVII.

Passive Infinitives; Infinitive as a Noun; Simple Indirect Discourse; Dative with Special Verbs; Ablative of Specification.

345.

CONJ. I.

PRES. amā-rī, to be loved.PERF. amāt-us, -a, -um esse, to have been loved.FUT. amāt-um irī, to be about to be loved.

	CONJ. II.	CONJ. III.	CONJ. IV.
PRES.	monē-rī.	reg-ī.	audi-rī.
PERF.	monit-us, -a, -um esse.	rēct-us, -a, -um esse.	audit-us, -a, -um esse.
FUT.	monit-um irī.	rēct-um irī.	audit-um irī.

In the Passive voice :

a. The Present Infinitive is formed by adding -rī to the Present stem. But notice that in the Third Conjugation -ī (not -rī) is added to the stem minus the final vowel.

b. The Perfect is formed by adding -us, -a, -um esse to the Participial stem.

c. The Future is formed by adding -um irī to the Participial stem.

346. INFINITIVE USED AS A NOUN.

1. Vidēre est crēdere. To see is to believe.*
2. Pueri nāre discunt. Boys learn to swim.*

Observe that the Infinitive may be used as a noun. Thus in example (1) vidēre is the subject of est, while crēdere is a Predicate Nominative. In example (2) nāre is the object of discunt.

347. SIMPLE INDIRECT DISCOURSE.

In English, verbs of saying, thinking, knowing, and perceiving are sometimes followed by an Infinitive with its subject in the Accusative, as: We supposed him to be a friend. He found it to be impossible.

Compare the following :

DIRECT. Urbs incolumis est. The city is safe.

INDIRECT. Putāmus urbem incolumem esse. We think that the city is safe (lit. the city to be safe).

DIRECT. Hostēs discessērunt. The enemy have departed.

INDIRECT. Cōgnōvērunt hostīs discessisse. They ascertained that the enemy had departed (lit. the enemy to have departed).

DIRECT. Veniam. I shall come.

INDIRECT. Dicit sē ventūrum esse. He says that he will come (lit. himself to be about to come).

a. Observe that where a Direct statement is made to depend upon a verb of saying, thinking, knowing, and perceiving, it becomes Indirect, the verb in Latin being put in the Infinitive with its subject in the Accusative.

b. Observe that, in English, the Indirect statement is generally introduced by the conjunction that, and that the verb is in the Indicative Mood.

348. Rule XXVII. Verbs of saying, knowing, thinking, and perceiving are followed by the Infinitive with its subject in the Accusative.

349. Examine the following :

Dicit	{ venire.	He says that the	{ are coming.
militēs	{ vēnisse.	soldiers	{ have come.
	{ ventūrōs esse.		{ will come.
Dixit	{ venire.	He said that the	{ were coming.
militēs	{ vēnisse.	soldiers	{ had come.
	{ ventūrōs esse.		{ would come.

Observe that the tense changes in the English, when the verb of saying, etc., is in a past tense, while the tense of the Latin Infinitive remains the same.

The tense of the Infinitive depends on the time of the principal verb. If the Infinitive denotes :

a. The same time as the principal verb, it will be in the Present.

b. Time before that of the principal verb, it will be in the Perfect.

c. Time after that of the principal verb, it will be in the Future.

350. DATIVE WITH SPECIAL VERBS.

Servō parcit. He spares the slave.

Lēgibus nōn pārent. They do not obey the laws.

Notice that servō and lēgibus, apparently the objects of parcit and pārent, are in the Dative case, and not in the Accusative, as we should expect them to be.

Of the verbs thus followed by the Dative, the most common are :

Parcō, pāreō, placeō, Faveō, noceō, serviō, Invideō, nūbō, ignōscō, Resistō, persuādeō, Maledicō, indulgēō.

351. Rule XXVIII. Many verbs meaning to favor, help, please, trust, and their opposites; also to believe, persuade, command, obey, serve, resist, envy, threaten, pardon, spare, and the like, are followed by the Dative.

352. ABLATIVE OF SPECIFICATION.

Virtūte praeccēdunt. They excel in courage.

Virtūte is in the Ablative, and specifies what they excel in. Hence it is called the Ablative of Specification.

353. Rule XXIX. The Ablative of Specification is used to denote that in respect to which anything is or is done.

DAEDALUS.

354. Daedalus, nātū Athēniēnsis, vir summō ingeniō, multās ūtilis artīs invēnit. Sed Perdīx, ēius sorōris filius, quī ā Daedalō docēbātur, etiam puer, eeleriter praeceptōrī antecellit. Cuī Daedalus invidet et dēnique eum ex altā rūpe praecipitem dēmittit. Deinde puerum dēcidisse nūntiat. Cuī autem Athēniēnsēs nōn crēdidērunt. Quam ob rem Daedalus cum filiō Īcarō ad Mīnōem, rēgem Crētae, effūgit. Eī Daedalus dīxit sē Athēnīs iniūstē expulsum esse; sē autem parātum esse rēgī multīs rēbus servīre. Nec difficile erat id rēgī persuādere. Nam dīrum mōnstrum, nōmine Mīnōtaurus, nūper in Crētā appāruerat, cuī corpus hominis erat, sed caput taurī.

355. 1. They say that an Athenian, Daedalus by name, envied his sister's son. 2. The boys declared that Perdix had been hurled from a very high cliff. 3. It is very difficult to believe this man in all things. 4. I say that Perdix excels his instructors in genius. 5. The Athenians said that Minos would expel Daedalus from Crete.

356. Itaque Mīnōs Daedalum benīgnē accēpit, atque eum iussit in potestātem suam mōnstrum redigere. Inde Daedalus mīrābilem labyrinthum aedificāvit, quī mīlle viās et innumerābilis ambāgēs habuisse dīcitur. Hīc Mīnōtaurum clausit. Tamen necesse erat mōnstrō corpora hominum ad cibum praeberē. Paucīs post annīs Daedalus nūntiat sē Athēnās reditūrum esse. Id autem ā rēge nōn cēditur. Inde ille novam viam fugae reperit. Nam pennās avium in ōrdine pōnit, quās līnō et cērā in fōrmam ālārū adligat. Hās ignōtās ālās umerīs suīs et filī accomodat. Inde iter periculōsum incēpērunt. Sed Īcarus iūssīs patris nōn pāret et celsior volat. Mox sōl cēram pennārū mollit, et Īcarus in mare dēcidit quod nōmen ab illō trāxit. Daedalus autem incolumis in Siciliam pervēnit et multīs rēbus rēgī Siciliae serviēbat.

357. 1. Quis erat Daedalus? 2. Cūr Daedalus Perdīcī invidet? 3. Quid Perdīcī accidit? 4. Ad quem Daedalus effūgit? 5. Quid Mīnōī dīxit? 6. Cūr nōn difficile erat id rēgī persuādere? 7. In quō Daedalus mōnstrum clausit? 8. Quid erat cibus monstrī? 9. Quam viam fugae ā Crētā Daedalus reperit? 10. Quid accidit Īcarō? 11. Num Daedalus in mare dēcidit? 12. Cuī rēgī postea serviēbat?

QUESTIONS.

358. How are the tenses of the Passive Infinitive formed ? Give the Passive Infinitives, Latin and English, of nūntiō, videō, mittō, veniō. Illustrate the use of the Infinitive as a noun. What is the difference between Direct and Indirect Discourse ? In what case is the subject of the Infinitive put ? On what does the tense of the Infinitive depend ? When will it be Present ? Perfect ? Future ? Mention the most common of the special verbs which are followed by the Dative. State the rule for Dative with special verbs. Distinguish between the Ablative of Specification and Ablative of Characteristic, giving an example of each. Compare the Adverbs formed from multus, parvus, ācer, gravis, facilis.

LESSON XXXVIII.

Participles ; Ablative Absolute.

359. A Participle is a Verbal Adjective ; as a verb it may be followed by an object ; as an adjective it must agree with its noun in gender, number, and case.

360. In Latin there are two participles in each voice, as follows :

ACTIVE PARTICIPLES.

NAME.	ENDING.	MEANING.
PRESENT.	-ns, gen. -ntis.	-ing.
FUTURE.	-ūrus, -a, -um.	about to.

PASSIVE PARTICIPLES.

PERFECT.	-us, -a, -um.	having been.
GERUNDIVE.	-ndus, -a, -um.	necessary to be, or -ing.

CONJ. I.

PRES.	amā-ns,	loving.
FUT.	amāt-ūrus,	} about to love.
	-a, -um,
PERF.	amāt-us,	} having been loved.
	-a, -um,
G'V'E.	ama-ndus,	} necessary to be loved, or loving.
	-a, -um,

	CONJ. II.	CONJ. III.	CONJ. IV.
PRES.	monē-ns.	regē-ns.	audiē-ns.
FUT.	monit-ūrus,	rēct-ūrus,	audit-ūrus.
	-a, -um.	-a, -um.	-a, -um.
PERF.	monit-us,	rēct-us,	audit-us,
	-a, -um.	-a, -um.	-a, -um.
G'V'E.	mone-ndus,	rege-ndus,	audie-ndus,
	-a, -um.	-a, -um.	-a, -um.

a. Observe that the Present participle and the Gerundive are formed by adding the endings to the Present stem, while the Future and the Perfect have the Participial stem.

b. Notice that -e is added to the Present stem in the Fourth Conjugation.

c. Form the participles, both Latin and English, of portō, doceō, scribō, mūniō.

a. Notice that in the first three examples, there is a noun (in the fourth, a pronoun) in the Ablative, and a participle agreeing with it, and that they define the time or circumstances of the action expressed in the main clause of the sentence. Notice also that they are independent of the rest of the sentence. Hence this construction is called the Ablative Absolute.

Rule XXX. A noun or pronoun, with a participle, may be put in the Ablative to define the time or circumstances of an action.

b. Observe that in the 5th example a noun, and in the 6th an adjective, is used instead of the participle. In both cases, "being" is supplied in English.

c. Observe that the literal translation of the Ablative Absolute is apt to be awkward. A smoother translation is obtained by using the Active participle with a direct object, or a clause introduced by a suitable conjunction.

d. In translating English into Latin, do not imagine that all participles will have the Ablative Absolute construction. For example, if a participle belongs to the subject of a verb in the Indicative mood, it will, of course, be in the Nominative case, as: Caesar, influenced by their entreaties, undertook the war. Caesar, eōrum precibus adductus, bellum suscepit.

362. USE OF THE PRESENT PARTICIPLE.

In Latin, the Present participle can only be used when it denotes the same time as the principal verb, as: Vidi eum ridentem. I saw him laughing. When, therefore, the Present participle is used loosely in English to denote time before that of the principal verb, a Perfect participle or a clause must be substituted, as:

Ascertaining these facts, they departed.

His rebus cognitis, discesserunt.

THESEUS ET MINOTAURUS.

363. Olim, regnante Aegeō, Androgeus Minōis filius Athēnās vēnit, atque lūdōrum, quī ibi quotannis celebrābantur, victor appellātus est. Haud ita multō post, cāsū nesciō quō necātus est. Quam ob rem Minōs incēnsus irā bellum cum Athēniēnsibus gessit.

Quibus victis terribile tributum imposuit. Eos enim quotannis septem iuvenis septemque virginēs ad cibum Minotaurō mittere iussit. Eā rē cōgnitā, Thēseus ad Crētā nāvigāre et cum mōnstrō pūgnāre cōstituit. Nec lacrimis patris nec precibus populī mōtus est. Dēnique sortēs dūcuntur et omnia parāta sunt. Infēlicēs iuvenēs cum Thēseō nāvem ātrīs vēlis aptātam, sīgnum lūctūs, cōscendunt. Quam nāvem Thēseus patrī prōmittit albīs vēlis aptātam, sīgnum victōriæ, Athēnās reditūram esse.

364. 1. In the reign of Minos king of Crete, Androgeus, his son, was murdered at Athens. 2. When everything was ready, we embarked on a ship with black sails. 3. Theseus said that he would kill the Minotaur and return to Athens a victor. 4. After the lots had been drawn, seven unfortunate youths were ordered to sail to Crete. 5. On ascertaining these facts, Minos determined to wage war with Aegeus.

in labyrinthum dūcunt. Prope introitum autem iuvenis custōdibus īnscentibus filum adnectit. Subitō terribilem mūgītum exaudiunt. Inde custōdēs ex labyrinthō discēdunt et Thēseus sōlus relinquitur. LESSON XXXIX.

Gerund; Gerundive; Supine; Ablative of Time.

	CONJ. I.	CONJ. II.	CONJ. III.	CONJ. IV.
G.	amandī , of loving.	monendī	regendī	audiendī
D.	amandō , for loving.	monendō	regendō	audiendō
Ac.	amandum , loving.	monendum	regendum	audiendum
Ab.	amandō , by loving.	monendō	regendō	audiendō

a. The Gerund is a verbal noun of the Second Declension; it lacks the Nominative case, which is supplied by the Infinitive. Following are examples of its use.

369.

G. His potestātem discēdendi fēcit. He gave these the opportunity of departing.

D. Aqua utilis est bibendō. Water is useful for drinking.

Ac. Nāvēs erant inūtilēs ad nāvīgandum. The ships were useless for sailing.

Ab. Militēs in metendō occupāti sunt. The soldiers were occupied in reaping.

a. Observe that the gerund is governed precisely like any other noun. As it has the force of a verb, it may take an object in the proper case. But, as a general rule, instead of the gerund with a direct object the gerundive is used. The gerundive then agrees with its noun, which is put in the case in which the gerund would have been. The following examples illustrate the use of the gerundive instead of the gerund.

370.

- G. Cōnsilium { legiōnem opprimendī. } They formed the cēpērunt { legiōnis opprimendae. } plan of crushing the legion.
- D. Vix erat { rēs conlocandō. } There was scarcely tempus { rēbus conlocandīs. } time for arranging matters.
- Ac. In Itāliam { ad agendum con- } He hastened into Italy for contendit { ad cōventūs } the purpose of holding (to hold) courts.
- Ab. Mōbilēs { in capiendō cōnsilia. } They are changeable sunt { in cōnsiliis capiendīs. } in forming plans.

a. Notice that the Accusative of the gerundive with ad is used to express purpose.

371.

SUPINE.

	CONJ. I.	CONJ. II.	CONJ. III.	CONJ. IV.
Ac.	amātum, to love.	monitum	rēctum	auditum
Ab.	amātū, to love.	monitū	rēctū	auditū

a. The Supine is a verbal noun of the Fourth Declension, used only in the Accusative and Ablative as follows :

1. Lēgātōs misērunt rogātum auxilium. They sent ambassadors to ask assistance.
2. Perfacile factū est. It is very easy to do.

b. The Accusative of the supine — called the supine in -um — is used, as in example (1), with verbs of motion to express purpose.

NOTE. — This Supine is also used with irī, — the Passive Infinitive of eō, to go, — to form the Future Passive Infinitive of verbs, as : amātum irī.

c. The Ablative of the supine — called the supine in -ū — is used, as in example (2), with a few adjectives.

ABLATIVE OF TIME.

1. Nocte oppidum oppugnābimus. We shall storm the town at night.

2. Tribus hōris expugnābitur. It will be taken within three hours.

In the first example the Ablative nocte expresses time when; in the second example the Ablative tribus hōris expresses time within which.

373. Rule XXXI. Time when or within which is expressed by the Ablative without a preposition.

THĒSEUS ET ARIADNĒ.

374. Mīnōtaurō vīctō, Thēseus filō viam, quā vēnerat, celeriter repetit. Ad introitum labyrinthī Ariadnē videt, quae metū tremēns iuvenem petītum vēnerat. Nunc tandem virgō laeta eum vīctōrem videt, atque eī dīcit sē omnia parāvisse; custōdēs carceris somnō vīnōque sepultōs esse; ēius comitēs ad nāvīgandum parātōs esse. Statim Thēseus cum Ariadnē ad lītus properat, ubi iam suī comitēs convēnerant. Sine tumultū omnēs nāvem ātrīs vėlīs cōnscendunt et nocte tēctī per classem Mīnōis ēvādunt. Nunc tandem eīs est spēs patriae videndae. Posterō diē Naxon veniunt. Hīc ab omnī periculō tūtī paucōs diēs manēbant. Tum Thēseus et comitēs nāvem cōnscendunt et Athēnās cursum dērigunt. Ariadnē autem relīcta est, quam ob rem difficile dictū est.

375. 1. The companions of Theseus had no hope of conquering the Minotaur. 2. They had hastened to the shore to see the ship with black sails. 3. They say it is (a) difficult (thing) to see. 4. They will remain at Naxos for the purpose of searching for the maiden. 5. On the following day they said that they would arrive at Athens within a few days.

Sight Translation. THĒSEUS ET ARIADNĒ. — Concluded.

376. Alii dīcunt Thēseī in animō esse Naxon postea redire ad dūcendam Ariadnē in mātīmōnium; alii deum Bacchum coēgisse iuvenem Ariadnē relinquere dīcunt. Saltem certum est Bacchum eam in caelum sēcum ēvēxisse et eī corōnam septem stellārum dedisse. Etiam nunc enim nocte in caelō Ariadnea corōna cernitur.

Iam multōs diēs rēx Aegeus reditum nāvis expectābat, quae suum filium ad Crētā ēvēxerat. Procul tandem nāvem cernit, sed ēheu! ātrīs vēlīs. Nam Thēseus cāsū nēsciō quō vēla nōn mūtāverat. Tum rēx māgnō dolōre adfectus sē ex altā rūpe in mare dēiēcit; unde marī nōmen est Aegaeum. Inde Thēseus rēx Athēnārum sapienter cīvitatē regē-Quālis rēx erat Thēseus? 12. Quālis fīlius erat Thēseus?

QUESTIONS.

378. Give the gerunds of nārrō, videō, dūcō, veniō. What is a gerund? A gerundive? When is the gerundive used instead of a gerund? In the following examples change from the gerund to the gerundive construction, and vice versā: ad perferendās calamitātis, cōnsilium bellum renovandī, difficultās belli gerendī, ad legiōnēs trānsportandum. What is a supine? How are the supines used? Give an example of time when; time within which. What kind of time does the Accusative express?

LESSON XL.

Derivation and Composition of Words.

379. In English, several words of kindred meaning may often be formed from one word by the addition of certain endings, called suffixes; e. g., from the verb govern we have governor, governess, government, governable, etc. Compare the following examples in Latin:

REG- = guide.reg-ere, to rule.rēx (= reg-s), king.rēg-ina, queen.rēg-ius, royal.rēg-ia, palace.reg-iō, direction.rēgn-um, reign.rēgn-āre, to reign.rēgnā-tor, ruler.rēc-tor, guide, ruler.rēct-iō, direction, government.rēct-us, direct, straight.

All these Latin words, having in them the idea of guidance or government, are formed from the root REG- by the addition of certain suffixes. Following are a few of the most important suffixes used in the formation of Latin words.

NOUNS.

(1.) The suffix -tor added to roots or verb-stems denotes the agent or doer of an action, as :

vincō (root vic-), I conquer.ōrō (stem ōrā-), I plead.victor, conqueror.ōrātor, pleader, orator.

In like manner form nouns of agency from imperō and canō.

(2.) -ia, -tia, -tās and -tūdō added to adjective and noun stems form abstract nouns expressing quality, as :

diligēns (stem diligent-), diligent.laetus (stem laeto-), glad.celer (stem celeri-), quick.altus (stem alto-), high.diligentia, diligence.laetitia, gladness.celeritās, quickness.altitūdō, height.

Form nouns expressing quality from prūdēns, saevus, tardus, māgnus.

(3.) -iō, -tiō, -tus and -tūra added to verb stems form nouns expressing action, as :

legō (root LEG-), I gather.	legiō , gathering, legion. dimicō (stem dimicā-), I fight.	dimicātiō , struggle. canō (root CAN-), I sing.	cantus , singing.
pingō (root PIC-), I paint.	pictūra , painting.

Form nouns of action from dicō, conīūrō, adveniō, stō.

ADJECTIVES.

(1.) The suffixes -ānus, -īnus, -ēnsis form adjectives denoting belonging to, as :

Rōma (stem Rōma-), Rome.	Rōmānus , Roman.
Gabīi (stem Gabio-), Gabii.	Gabinus , of Gabii.
Athēnae (stem Athēna-), Athens.	Athēniēnsis , Athenian.

Form such adjectives from Alba, Latium, Sicilia.

(2.) -eus forms adjectives denoting material, as :

aurum (stem auro-), gold.	aureus , golden.
ferrum (stem ferro-), iron.	ferreus , of iron.

Form adjectives denoting material from lignum and marmor.

(3.) -lis, -ālis, -ēlis, -ilis, -bilis form adjectives denoting tendency, as :

humus (stem humo-), ground.	humilis , low.
mors (stem mort-), death.	mortālis , mortal.
fidēs (stem fidē-), faith.	fidēlis , faithful.
hostis (stem hosti-), enemy.	hostilis , hostile.
terreō (root TERR-), frighten.	terribilis , terrible.

In like manner form adjectives from faciō, nātūra, crūdus, vir, horreō.

VERBS.

Some Latin verbs are formed directly from roots, as agō from root AG-; others are formed from noun, adjective, and other verb stems, as :

laus (stem laud-), praise.	laudāre , to praise.
albus (stem albo-), white.	albeō , be white.
caleō (stem calē-), be warm.	calēscō , grow warm.
finis (stem fini-), end.	finiō , end.

383.

COMPOUND WORDS.

Latin compounds consist of two or more simple stems uniting to form one word, as : māgno + animus = māgnanimus, great-souled.

They are often formed of verbs preceded (1) by a preposition, as in-scribō, inscribe, or (2) by a particle, as dis-cēdō, depart.

a. Notice the following compounds of mittō, send.

ā-mittō , send away.	manū-mittō , send from the hand, release.
ad-mittō , send to, admit.	o-mittō , omit.
circum-mittō , send around.	per-mittō , send through, permit.
com-mittō , send together, commit.	prae-mittō , send forward.
dē-mittō , send or cast down.	prō-mittō , promise.
di-mittō , send apart, scatter.	re-mittō , send back, remit.
ē-mittō , send forth, emit.	sub-mittō , send under, submit.
im-mittō , send in.	trāns-mittō , send across. inter-mittō , send between, intermit. illis, dimicātiō, hostilis, cantus. What is the force of the prepositions and particles in the following: iniustus, porrigere, subripere, sēclūdere, occidere, conlaudāre, redire, subridēre, discēdere, sublevāre, occurrere, ambire, convenire, importāre.

· LESSON XLI.

Subjunctive of Sum; Hortatory Subjunctive; Subjunctive of Wish.

391. The Subjunctive mood has four tenses; viz., Present, Imperfect, Perfect, and Pluperfect. It is variously translated according to the clause in which it stands. Learn the following paradigm:—

SUBJUNCTIVE OF SUM.

PRESENT.		IMPERFECT.
s-i-m	s-ī-mus	es-se-m	es-sē-mus
s-i-s	s-ī-tis	es-sē-s	es-sē-tis
s-i-t	s-i-nt	es-se-t	es-se-nt
PERFECT.		PLUPERFECT.
fu-eri-m	fu-eri-mus	fu-isse-m	fu-issē-mus
fu-eri-s	fu-eri-tis	fu-issē-s	fu-issē-tis fu-eri-t	fu-eri-nt	fu-isse-t	fu-isse-nt

392. The Subjunctive has two principal uses.

- I. It may be used independently.
- II. It may be dependent on another verb.

I. SUBJUNCTIVE IN INDEPENDENT SENTENCES.

393. HORTATORY SUBJUNCTIVE.

1. Bonī simus. Let us be good.
2. Nē ignāvi simus. Let us not be cowards.

a. Observe that these sentences are exhortations. Hence this is called the Hortatory Subjunctive.

b. The negative is nē, as in example (2).

394. Rule XXXII. The Subjunctive is used to express a mild command or exhortation.

395. SUBJUNCTIVE OF WISH.

1. Sis fēlix. May you be fortunate.

2. (Utinam) Athēnis essem. O that I were (now) at Athens!

3. (Utinam) nē domī fuissēmus. O that we had not been at home!

a. Notice that the wish expressed in example (1) is with regard to the future, and that it may be fulfilled. Hence, it is called a possible wish. It requires the Present Subjunctive.

b. The wish expressed in example (2) is with regard to present time, but it cannot be fulfilled, as the person is evidently not now at Athens. It is therefore called an impossible wish in the present. Notice that although the time is present, the tense is Imperfect.

c. The wish in example (3) is with reference to past time, and of course cannot be fulfilled. It is called an impossible wish in the past, and requires the Pluperfect Subjunctive.

d. Utinam may be omitted. The negative is nē.

396. Rule XXXIII. The Subjunctive is used to express a wish; the Present tense is used for a possible wish; the Imperfect for an impossible wish in the present; the Pluperfect for an impossible wish in the past.

MIDĀS.

397. Bacchus ōlim Midae, rēgī Phrygiae, prō beneficiō arbitrium mūneris dedit. Ille autem sīc petīvit: “Quicquid meō corpore contigerō, id aurum sit.” Cuī deus maestus adnuit, “Ita sit.” Midās autem laetus domum abīvit. Vix fōrtūnae crēdēns postīs tangit, quī prōtinus in aurum vertuntur. Deinde rēgiam percurrit, lectōs, mēnsās, sellās, manū tangēns. Brevī omnia sunt aurea. Mox rēgī māgnificās epulās ministrī appōnunt. Tum vērō quicquid cibī rēx ōre contingit, id statim in aurum vertitur. Etiam vīnum in aureum flūmen vertitur. Midās attonitus opēs effugere temptat sed frūstrā. Sīc tandem sēcum dīcit: “Nē tam stultus fuisset! Et dītissimus et pauperrimus mortālium sum! Utinam deus ipse adesset! Quō modo sine ēius auxiliō mortem effugiam?”

398. 1. Let not the king be astonished. 2. O that all things in the palace were golden! 3. Let the feast be magnificent. 4. O that the attendants of the king had not been so foolish! 5. O that we were not so poor!

Sight Translation. MIDĀS. — Concluded.

399. Inde Midās Bacchum diem noctemque quaerēbat. Dēnique famē sitīque dēfessus deum repperit. Tum sīc ōrat: “Dā veniam, pater, peccāvī. Ab hōc crūdēlī fātō mē ēripe.” Cuī deus benīgnē respondet: “Vāde ad flūmen Pactōlum. Ubi ad flūminis fontīs vēneris, aquae tuum caput subde, et simul corpus crīmenque ēlue." Rēx ad flūmen succēdit, atque in aquam sē mergit. Statim, mīrābile dictū, vīs aurea dē ēius corpore in flūmen cēdit. Usque ad hōc tempus Pactōlus aureīs harēnīs fluere dīcitur. At Midās, cuī ex eō tempore opēs invīsae erant, silvās et rūra semper colēbat.

400. 1. Quis erat Midās? 2. Quis ōlim Midae arbitrium mūneris dedit? 3. Ubi rēx domum vēnit, quid prīmum fēcit? 4. Quid accidit? 5. Quid deinde Midās fēcit? 6. Quid accidit, ubi ministrī epulās rēgī apposuērunt? 7. Quem Midās diū quaerēbat? 8. Quid Midae petentī deus respondit? 9. Quid accidit, ubi rēx in aquam sē mersit? 10. Cūr postea Midās silvās et rūra colēbat?

a. Observe that an Indirect Question is really a Direct Question made dependent on a verb.

b. Notice that the verb in the Indirect Question is in the Subjunctive mood.

404. Rule XXXIV. Indirect Questions are put in the Subjunctive.

405. SEQUENCE OF TENSES.

a. Carefully examine the above sentences and observe that the tense of the Subjunctive depends upon the tense of the principal verb according to the following rule :

406. Rule XXXV. If the tense of the principal verb is Present, Future, or Future Perfect, it will be followed by the Present or Perfect Subjunctive. But if the tense of the principal verb is Imperfect, Perfect, or Pluperfect, it will be followed by the Imperfect or Pluperfect Subjunctive.

Iāsonem filium Aesonis interficere cōstituit. Sed quīdam, quī Aesonī amīcus erat, eī ostendit quid cōsiliī Peliās habēret. Inde Aēsōn, plēnus timōris, cūm filiō in montīs effūgit, ubi cuiādam centaurō, nōmine Chīrōnī, Iāsonem ēducandum dedit. (Centaurī caput manūsque hūmānās sed corpus equīnum habēbant.) Cum Chīrōne multōs annōs vīvēbat Iāsōn, patris rēgnīque immemor. Tandem eī iam fortissimō et validissimō centaurus ostendit unde vēnisset et quis esset.

Mox, omnibus rēbus parātīs, Chīrōnī “Valē” dīcit, et ad plānitīem dēscendit. Sub monte succēdit ad Anaurum, rapidum flūmen, quī tum māximē imbribus tumidus erat. Dum Iāsōn trānsīre dubitat, pauperem anum in rīpā sedentem videt. Quae statim strīdulā vōce iuvenem sē trānsportāre iubet. Quod prīmum Iāsōn recūsāt; sed postea, misericordiā mōtus, eam in suōs umerōs tollit et aquam intrat. Vix in rapidō flūmine sē sustinet. Tandem, dēfessus labōribus, alterō calceō amissō, ad rīpam venit. Deinde, onere depositō, ad “Valē” dīcendum sē vertit. At iam, mīrābile dictū, nōn anus, sed dea pulcherrimā fōrmā adest.

a. Observe that the dependent clauses introduced by ut, quī, and nē express purpose, the verb being in the Subjunctive.

b. Observe that the dependent clause in example (4) is equivalent to a noun, or substantive, used as an object of the principal verb. Such clauses are called Substantive clauses of Purpose.

417. Rule XXXVIII. The Subjunctive with ut, nē, or a relative, is used to express Purpose.

NOTE. — The rule for Sequence of Tenses is observed in clauses of Purpose.

DATIVE OF SERVICE.

Militēs urbi praesidiō erant.

The soldiers were (for) a guard to the city.

a. Observe that praesidiō is in the Dative, and that the soldiers served as a guard to the city. Hence this is called the Dative of Service. It is usually coupled with another Dative forming the construction sometimes called the Double Dative.

419. Rule XXXIX. The Dative is used to denote the Purpose or End.

IĀSŌN ET DEA.

420. Tum sic dicit dea Iāsonī: "Iūnō sum, quae incēdō rēgīna deōrum, et soror et uxor Iovis! Tū mihi labōrantī auxiliō fuistī. Ego, sī quandō ūsus Cui sīc respondit deus: “Cavē nē aliēnus, ūnum calceum gerēns, tē ex tuō rēgnō expellat.” Lēgātus rediit et rēgī nūntiāvit quid deus respondisset. Eum rēx monuit nē quid dē ōrāculō diceret. Tamen, nēsciō quō modo, rūmor dē hāc rē volgātus est. Ubi igitur Iāsōn in urbem vēnit, cīvēs eum alterum calceum amīsisse sēnsērunt atque eum monuērunt ut fugeret. At ille “Vēnī,” inquit “ut crūdēlem tyrannum expellerem.”

4. Accidit ut esset lūna plēna.

It happened that it was full moon.

a. Observe that these dependent clauses introduced by ut and quī express result, and that their verbs are in the Subjunctive mood.

b. Notice that the negative in Result clauses is nōn. Compare the negative in Purpose clauses.

c. The dependent clause in example (3) characterizes the man to whom reference is made. Such clauses are therefore sometimes said to contain a Subjunctive of Characteristic.

d. Notice that the dependent clause in example (4) is used as a substantive, being the subject of the verb accidit. Such clauses are therefore called Substantive Clauses of Result.

427. Rule XL. The Subjunctive is used with ut, ut nōn, or a relative, to express Result.

VELLUS AUREUM.

428. Dum saeva noverca Phrixum et Hellēn caedere parat, subitō ē nūbibus pennātus ariēs vellere aureō appāruit, atque liberōs abstulit. Tum tantus erat furor novercae, ut ex altā rūpe in mare sē dēmitteret. Intereā ariēs super mare terramque ad orientem volābat. Sed ēheu! ad ōram Āsiae, tam dēfessa erat Hellē ut praeceps in pontum incideret. Cui aquae usque ad hōc tempus nōmen est Hellēs-pontus. Phrixus autem incolumis in Colchida pervēnit. In hōc numerō erant frātrēs geminī, Castor et Pollūx, atque Herculēs, fortissimus omnium mortālium; Orpheus, quī carminibus saxa silvāsque mōvisse dīcitur; et Meleager et Thēseus, dē quibus ante dēmōnstrāvimus, et multī aliī clārī virī. What is meant by the Subjunctive of Characteristic? What is a Substantive clause of Result? Give an example of the Hortatory Subjunctive.

LESSON XLV.

Deponent Verbs; Verbs of Fearing; Quīn Clauses.

433. Deponent verbs are Passive in form but Active in meaning. They are inflected in all conjugations as follows:

Principal Parts:

hortor, hortārī, hortātus.	sequor, sequī, secūtus.
vereor, verērī, veritus.	potior, potirī, potitus.

FUT.	hortātūrus esse	veritūrus esse	secūtūrus esse	potitūrus esse

PARTICIPLES.

PRES.	hortāns	verēns	sequēns	potiēns
FUT.	hortātūrus	veritūrus	secūtūrus	potitūrus
PERF.	hortātus	veritus	secūtus	potitus

VERBAL NOUNS.

GER.	hortandī, etc.	verendī, etc.	sequendī, etc.	potiendī, etc.
SUP.	hortātum, -ū	veritum, -ū	secūtum, -ū	potitum, -ū

a. Notice that the Future Infinitive is Active in form as well as in meaning.

b. Observe that Deponent verbs have all four participles. These have the same meaning as in any regular verb, except the Perfect participle, which means having, (not having been), thus:

PRES. hortāns, exhorting.

FUT. hortātūrus, about to exhort.

PERF. hortātus, having exhorted.

G'V'E. hortandus, necessary to be exhorted, or exhorting.

After studying hortor and vereor, inflect in like manner mīror and mereor.

NOTE. — Four verbs which are Active in the Present system become Deponents in the Perfect, and are called Semi-deponent. They are:

audeō, audēre, ausus, dare.

gaudeō, gaudēre, gāvisus, rejoice.

fīdō, fidere, fīsus, trust.

soleō, solēre, solitus, be wont.

434. PURPOSE CLAUSES AFTER VERBS OF FEARING.

1. Vereor ut vincat. I fear that he will not conquer.

2. Vereor nē vincat. I fear that he will conquer.

Observe that after verbs of fearing ut means that not, while nē means that. In accordance with this rule, example (1) may also be written thus:

Vereor nē nōn vincat. I fear that he will not conquer.

435. Rule XLI. Verbs of Fearing are followed by the Subjunctive introduced by ut or nē nōn, meaning that not, or by nē, meaning that.

RESULT CLAUSES WITH QUĪN.

1. Nōn dubitō quīn veniat. I do not doubt that he will come.

2. Nōn multum āfuit quīn interficerētur. Not much was lacking but that he was killed, i.e., he was very nearly killed.

Notice that the Result clauses introduced by quīn are dependent on clauses containing the negative nōn.

437. Rule XLII. The Subjunctive with quīn may be used to express Result when the main clause contains or implies a negation.

ARGONAUTAE.

438. Omnibus rēbus parātīs, Iāsōn et ēius sociī nāvem dēdūcunt. Mox Argonautae (nam ita appellātī sunt) portū prōvehuntur, terraeque urbēque recēdunt. Posterō diē Pēlion et Ossam praetervehuntur. Procul aperītur Olympī altum cacūmen nive candidum. Hinc cursum ad dextram advertunt. Mox Athon relinquunt, et altum mare petunt. Iam īnsula Lēmnos appāret. Hīc paucōs diēs morātī, iterum nāvem solvunt. Posterō diē per Hellēspontum in Propontida vēctī, ad urbem rēgis Cyzicī accēdunt. Hīc verēbantur ut benīgnē acciperentur. Rēx enim, quod cum finitimīs gentibus bellum gerēbat, omnīs aliēnōs ab urbe prohibēbat. Āc prīmō quidem nōn dubitāvit quīn Argonautae hostēs essent. Sed tandem certior factus quam ob causam vēnissent, eōs nōn modo in urbem accēpit sed etiam dōnīs onerāvit.

439. 1. I did not doubt that you would be kindly received. 2. We were afraid that his companions were not ready. 3. O that I had been informed why they came! 4. They are afraid that the neighboring nations will wage war with them. 5. We do not doubt that he will be delayed a few days.

Sight Translation. ARGONAUTAE ET CYZICUS.

440. Tum nāvem cōnscendunt et portū prōvehuntur. Sed eādem nocte subitō tanta tempestās coorta est, ut nāvis, Argonautīs īnscientibus, in eundem portum rēicerētur. Ubi igitur hī urbem intrāre cōnābantur, cīvēs, nōn dubitantēs quīn hostēs essent, in eōs impetum fēcērunt. Nec multum āfuit quīn Argonautae vincerentur. Pūgnātum est diū atque ācriter. Tandem cīvēs, dēfessī vulneribus, intrā moenia urbis sē recēpērunt. Primā lūce omnēs āgnōscunt sē nocte dēceptōs esse. Sed ēheu! in acervīs cadāverum rēx ipse repertus est. Deinde Argonautae māgnō dolōre adfectī, ingentem rogum strūxērunt, quem pīctīs vestibus et fulgentibus armīs decorant. In altō rogō corpus rēgis locant. Tum Iāsōn āversus facem admovet. Flammae mox omnia cōnsūmunt. Quō factō Argonautae maestī ex urbe ad nāvem discēdunt.

441. 1. Cūr Iāsōn et ēius socii Argonautae appellātī sunt? 2. Quōs montīs primum Argonautae vīdērunt? 3. Ubi paucōs diēs morābantur? 4. Cūr verēbantur ut ā Cyzicō benignē acciperentur? 5. Quid fēcit rēx? 6. Quid eādem nocte eīs accidit? 7. Ubi urbem intrāre cōnābantur, quid cīvēs fēcērunt? 8. Quī vīcērunt? 9. Quid primā lūce omnēs āgnōscunt? 10. Ubi rēx repertus est? 11. Quid fēcērunt Argonautae?

QUESTIONS.

442. What are Deponent verbs? In what respect do they differ from regular verbs? Give all the participles, Latin and English, of polliceor, I promise. How do you translate ut and nē after verbs of Fearing? When may quin clauses be used?

LESSON XLVI.

Ablative with Deponents; Accusative of Extent; Simple Conditions.

443. Study sequor and potior in the preceding lesson; then write out synopses of ūtor and mōlior.

444. ABLATIVE WITH DEONENTS.

1. Carne et lacte vescuntur. They live on flesh and milk.

2. Castris potiti sunt. They got possession of the camp.

Observe that vescuntur and potiti sunt are followed by the Ablative.

445. Rule XLIII. The Deponents ūtor, fruor, fungor, potior, vescor, and their compounds, govern the Ablative case.

446. ACCUSATIVE OF EXTENT.

Fossa quīnque pedēs alta. A ditch five feet deep.

Notice that quīnque pedēs is in the Accusative case, and is the extent of the depth. It is therefore called the Accusative of Extent.

447. Rule XLIV. Extent of space is expressed by the Accusative.

448. CONDITIONAL SENTENCES.

INDICATIVE.

SIMPLE PRESENT.

1. Sī cēdit, ignāvus est. If he yields, he is a coward.

SIMPLE PAST.

2. Sī cessit, ignāvus fuit. If he yielded, he was a coward.

MORE VIVID FUTURE.

3. Sī cēdet (cesserit), ignāvus erit. { If he yields (lit., shall yield or shall have yielded), he will be a coward.

SUBJUNCTIVE.

LESS VIVID FUTURE.

4. Sī cēdat, ignāvus sit. If he should yield, he would be a coward.

CONTRARY TO FACT PRESENT.

5. Sī cēderet, ignāvus esset. If he were yielding, he would be a coward.

CONTRARY TO FACT PAST.

6. Sī cessisset, ignāvus fuisset. If he had yielded, he would have been a coward.

a. Notice that these sentences contain a condition, on which a conclusion is based.

b. In the first three sentences, nothing is implied as to the truth or falsity of the condition; if the condition is a fact, the conclusion follows as a fact. Hence the Indicative is used. Now compare the last three sentences.

c. Example (4) refers to the future, and vaguely suggests the possibility of the person's yielding. Example (5) distinctly implies that he is not yielding, and example (6) that he did not yield. In these sentences therefore the Subjunctive is used, the Present tense to suggest mere possibility, the Imperfect to imply impossibility in the present, the Pluperfect to imply impossibility in the past. (Compare the tenses in the Subjunctive of Wish.)

d. The six Conditions may be grouped according to their names, as follows :

Simple,	{ Present.	Indicative Present.
	{ Past.	Indicative Past.
Future,	{ More vivid.	Indicative Future or Future Perfect.
	{ Less vivid.	Subjunctive Present.
Contrary to Fact,	{ Present.	Subjunctive Imperfect.
	{ Past.	Subjunctive Pluperfect.

e. Observe that in More vivid future conditions the Latin marks the time with far greater precision than the English, using the Future or Future Perfect where we less accurately use the Present.

NOTE. — In Simple past conditionals, the Imperfect Indicative may be used to denote continued time in the past, as: Sī cēdē- bat, ignāvus erat. If he was yielding, he was a coward. So also the Perfect Subjunctive is occasionally used in the condition of Less vivid future sentences, as: Sī cesserit, ignāvus sit. If he should have yielded, he would be a coward.

449. Rule XLV. Simple and More vivid future conditions take the Indicative; Less vivid future conditions take the Present Subjunctive; Contrary to fact conditions take the Imperfect Subjunctive when they refer to present time, and the Pluperfect Subjunctive when they refer to past time.

LŪDĪ CIRCĒNSĒS.

450. Circus Māximus Rōmāe erat tria stadia longus et ūnum stadium lātus. Undique erant sedīlia, quōrum in prīmīs senātōrēs equitēsque sedēbant; cētera sedīlia cīvibus Rōmānīs grātuīta erant. In alterā extrēmā parte erant carcerēs, ex quibus quadrigae ēmittēbantur. In mediō cursū erat mūrus humilis duodecim pedēs lātus, spīna nōmine, quī statuīs et columnīs ōrnātus est. Utrimque in extrēmā parte spīnae erat mēta, quam septiēs circumīre necesse erat.

Ex omnibus spectāculīs, lūdīs Circēnsibus Rōmānī māximē fruēbantur. Nec occāsiō dēerat. Multīs fēstīs diēbus erant pūblicī lūdī. Sī imperātor bene rēs gessit, Rōmae triumphum lūdīs ēgit. Sī quis creātus est curūlis aedīlis, māgnificō mūnere fūctus est. Etiam fūnera ēgregiōrum virōrum lūdīs celebrābantur. Diē cōstitutā, prīmā lūce multitudō plēbis ad Circum properābat ut sedīlia occupārent. Multō ante tempus spectāculī omne sedīle tenēbātur.

Tandem sonus tubārum exaudītur, et mox māgnifica pompa, cōnsule dūcente, portam intrat.

451. 1. It will be necessary to go round a low wall, which is one stade long and three feet wide. 2. If this is a feast day, the Romans are enjoying the games at the Circus. 3. If I am (shall have been) elected curule aedile, I will exhibit magnificent games. 4. Were the walls of the Circus Maximus three stades long? 5. CONDITIONAL SENTENCES.

Carefully review all that is given in the preceding lesson on Conditional sentences. Name and translate the following:

(Remember that you can easily determine to which of the six classes any condition belongs by observing the mood and tense of the verbs.)

Sī laudārēris, beātus essēs; sī laudāberis, beātus eris: sī laudāris, beātus es; sī laudēris, beātus sis: sī laudātus essēs, beātus fuissēs; sī laudātus es, beātus fuisti. Translate the following conditions into Latin: If you were being praised, you were happy; if you were praised, you would be happy; if you should be praised, you would be happy; if you had been praised, you would have been happy; if you are praised, you are happy; if you are praised, you will be happy.

HERCULĒS ET HYLĀS.

457. Iam Argonautae ōram Mýsiae praetervehēbantur. Paulō post, ventō adversō, proxima litora petīvērunt, et in terram ēgressī sunt. Ibi Herculēs cum Hylā, puerō pulcherrimā fōrmā, in silvam vērātum ivit. Mox Hylās cervum videt, quem prōtinus īnsequitur. Ea rēs fēlīciter ēvēnisset, sī Herculēs puerum secūtus esset. At ille longius in silvam prōgreditur. Hylās autem celerem cervum volnerāre nōn poterat, ac diū sōlus in silvā errābat. Dēnique ad fontem vēnit, ubi bibendī causā substitit. Sed Nympha fontis puerum pulcherrimum videt, atque eum, manibus ēius collō iniectīs, ad īnum fontem dētrahit. Iam Herculēs ad lītus reverterat, sed nusquam Hylam reperīre poterat. Veritus nē puer errāret, in silvam rediit. Āmēns hūc atque illūc currit et semper longius in silvam penetrat, sed frūstrā.

Intereā ventus sē verterat. Iam diū Argonautae impatientēs morae erant. Māximē Tīphys gubernātor sic querēbātur, “Sī Herculēs et Hylās adessent, prōtinus proficīscī possēmus.”

458. 1. If he had advanced farther into the forest, he would have come to a spring. 2. If the stag was pursued by Hercules, it was wounded. 3. If you were impatient of delay, you would be complaining. 4. If he stops, he will be dragged down to the bottom of the spring. 5. If they should go into the forest to hunt, they could see deer.

Sight Translation. PHĪNEUS ET HARPŶIAE.

459. Sed nec Herculēs nec Hylās vēnit. Tōtam noctem Argonautae eōs exspectābant. Primā lūce Iāsōn sic dīxit: “Nisi nostrī comitēs mox redierint, sine eīs proficīscēmur.” Tum diū eōs in omnīs partīs Argonautae petēbant. Dēnique maestī nāvem cōnscedunt et proficīscuntur. Haud ita multō post, ad terram vēnērunt, cūius rēx, Phīneus nōmine, gravissimō suppliciō adficiēbātur. Nam, quod hominibus quāsdam rēs occultās aperuerat, eum deī oculīs prīvāverant, atque nūper Harpȳiās in ēius terram dēmiserant. Haec duo mōnstra, quae capita hūmāna sed corpora avium habēbant, semper ab ipsō ōre rēgis cibum ēripiēbant. Ubi igitur Phīneus, quī nōn multum āfuit quīn famē morerētur, audīvit quī aliēnī essent, eōs in rēgiā arcessīvit. Nam sic sēcum putābat: “Sī hī virī cum Harpȳiīs dīmicient, fōrtē eōs vincere possint.” Cāsū accidit ut duo ex Argonautīs, Zētēs et Calais, ālās habērent. Ubi igitur hī dē Harpȳiīs audīvērunt, statim dīxērunt sē rēgem liberātūrōs esse. Epulīs parātīs, omnēs mēnsīs accumbunt. Mox mōnstra appārent. Sed Zētēs et Calais in aurās ascendunt, et impetum in ea faciunt. Diū et ācritēr pūgnātum est. Tandem duo virī Harpȳiās vincunt et fugant.

460. 1. Ubi iam Argonautae erant? 2. Cūr in terram ēgressī sunt? 3. Quī in silvā vēnātum ivērunt? 4. Quid Hylae accidit? 5. Quid fēcit Herculēs? 6. Quis māximē querēbātur, quod nec Herculēs nec Hylās aderat? 7. Quam diū Argonautae comitēs exspectābant? 8. Quid tandem fēcērunt? 9. Quō modo deī Phīnea pūnīverant? 10. Quālia mōnstra erant Harpȳiae? 11. Quī Harpȳiās fugāvērunt?

QUESTIONS.

461. Give a synopsis of possum. Give the Imperfect Subjunctive of possum in full. How do the letters change in possum? In prōsum? Translate the following: possis, potuisse, potueram, potuistis, potuerim, poterāmus; you (sing.) might be able, they are able, we might have been able, to be able, you (plur.) will have been able, they will be able.

LESSON XLVIII.

Active and Passive Periphrastic Conjugations; Dative of Agent; Objective Genitive.

462. The Active Periphrastic conjugation is made up of the Future Active participle and forms of the verb sum, as :

INDICATIVE.		SUBJUNCTIVE.
PRES.	amātūrus sum , I am about to love.	amātūrus sim .
IMP.	amātūrus eram , I was about to love.	amātūrus essem .
FUT.	amātūrus erō , I shall be about to love.
PERF.	amātūrus fui , I was about to love.	amātūrus fuerim .
PLUP.	amātūrus fueram , I had been about to love.	amātūrus fuissem .
F. P.	amātūrus fuerō , I shall have been about to love (rare).

INFINITIVE.

PRES.	amātūrus esse , to be about to love.	PERF.	amātūrus fuisse , to have been about to love.
-------	--	-------	---

463. The Passive Periphrastic conjugation is made up of the Gerundive and forms of the verb sum, as :

INDICATIVE.		SUBJUNCTIVE.
PRES.	amandus sum , I ought to be loved.	amandus sim .
IMP.	amandus eram , I ought to have been loved.	amandus essem .
FUT.	amandus erō , it will be necessary that I be loved.
PERF.	amandus fui , I ought to have been loved.	amandus fuerim .

PLUP. amandus fueram, it had been necessary that I be loved. amandus fuisset.

F. P. amandus fuerō, it will have been necessary that I be loved.

INFINITIVE.

PRES. amandus esse, to be necessary to be loved. PERF. amandus fuisse, to have been necessary to be loved.

NOTE. — The difficulty of translating some tenses of the Passive Periphrastic conjugation arises from the fact that the English verb ought is defective. The student can always obtain the sense by using the meaning necessary to be, — as: Hōc negōtium suscipiendum fuit, (lit., this task was necessary to be undertaken), This task had to be undertaken.

DATIVE OF AGENT.

1. Hōc mihi faciendum est. This must be done by me.
2. Caesarī omnia erant agenda. Everything had to be done by Caesar.

Observe that the Dative is used to denote the person on whom the necessity rests.

465. Rule XLVI. The Dative is used with the Passive Periphrastic conjugation to denote the person by whom the action is to be done.

OBJECTIVE GENITIVE.

1. Amor patriae. Love of country.
2. Spēs salūtis. Hope of safety.

Observe that the Genitives patriae and salūtis are objects of the feeling expressed by amor and spēs respectively. Hence the name Objective Genitive.

467. Rule XLVII. Nouns of action and feeling are followed by the Objective Genitive.

SYMPLEGADES.

468. Argonautae, fugātis Harpȳiis, eō diē apud Phīnea mānsērunt. Rēx, grātus prō tantō beneficiō, Iāsōnī dē periculīs, quae eī subeunda essent, multa praedixit. Posterō diē, nactī idōneam tempestātem ad nāvigandum, nāvem solvunt, et mox Pontum Euxīnum intrant. Hīc prīmum māgnus timor mentīs omnium occupāvit. “Ēheu!” dīxērunt “quantum aequor nōbīs lūstrandum est! At, eā rē bene gestā, nōn dubium est quīn in multō graviōra perīcula ventūrī sīmus. Nam etiam sī incolumēs in Colchida pervēnerimus, nūlla spēs erit nōbīs mōnstrī vincendī, quod nēmō adhūc etiam aggredī ausus sit.” Dum sīc queruntur, subitō terribilem fragōrem exaudiunt. Mox procul duās rūpīs ingentī māgnitūdine cernunt, quae parvō intervāllō in marī natābant. Tum sīc dīxit Iāsōn: “Illae sunt Symplēgades, dē quibus Phīneus mē praemonuit. Quae, sī quid in medium spatium venit, prōtinus incrēdibilī celeritātē concurrunt.”

469. 1. He will forewarn them about the monster, which must be conquered by Jason. 2. The Argonauts said that they would remain with the king that day. 3. If we had obtained suitable weather, we would have set sail. 4. We shall have to undergo this danger, if we intend to (are about to) arrive in Colchis. 5. There was no hope of sailing on the following day.

Sight Translation. SYMPLĒGADES. — Concluded.

470. Quā rē audītā, Argonautae perterriti sunt. Nec quidem multum āfuit quīn domum repetere cōstituerent. Quōs autem Iāsōn sic increpuit: “Ubi nunc, socii, est iste amor glōriæ? Nōne incolumēs per tot perīcula cursum tenuimus? Revo-cāte animōs. Certē Iūnō in tantō discrimine nobīs nōn dēerit.” Vix dīcendī finem fēcerat, cum columbam in medium spatium intrāre vident. Prōtinus ingentēs rūpēs concurrunt. Sed tantā celeritāte columba volāvit, ut incolumis, caudā amīssā, ēvāderet. Tum Argonautae nōn dubitantēs quīn dea ipsa viam mōnstrāret, rēmīs incumbunt. Citius Notō volucrīque sagittā volat Argō in angustum fretum. Ingēns mōns aquae sequēns eōs obruere minātur. Iam utrimque rūpēs terribilī celeritāte concurrunt. Tum Argonautae summā contentiōne rēmīs prōcumbunt. Prōsilit Argō per reliquum spatium atque intāctus in altum mare ēvādit.

- Nam in cēteris rēbus, cum venit calamitās, tum dētrimentum accipitur. For in everything else, the damage is received at the time when the disaster comes.

- Cum rosam vīderat, tum incipere vēr arbitrābātur. When he had seen a rose, then did he think spring was commencing.

a. In clauses introduced by cum, meaning when, if the writer wishes to emphasize merely the time when an action is done, he uses the Indicative. If, however, he wishes to suggest further that one action depends on another, he uses the Subjunctive. Thus, in the first example above in the right hand column, the writer not only states that he heard Zeno when he was at Athens, but, by using the Subjunctive, he further suggests that his hearing Zeno depended on his being at Athens.

b. Since, however, in narrating past events, it is natural for a person to think of the dependence of one action on another, the Subjunctive is generally used in the Imperfect and Pluperfect tenses, as seen in the examples above.

475. Rule XLVIII. In narration, cum, meaning when, is followed by the Imperfect or Pluperfect Subjunctive.

CUM CAUSAL.

1. Quae cum ita sint, discēdāmus. Since these things are so, let us depart.

2. Caesar cum cōstituisset hiemāre in continentī, obsidēs imperat. Caesar, since he had decided to winter on the continent, ordered hostages to be provided.

CUM CONCESSIVE.

3. Cum cōsiliū tuū probārem, nihil prōficiēbam. Although I approved your plan, I was accomplishing nothing.

4. Cum primī ordinēs concidissent, tamen ācerrimē reliqui resistēbant. Although the first ranks had fallen, still the rest resisted most fiercely.

Observe that in the first two examples, cum, meaning since, is followed by the Subjunctive. Likewise in the last two, cum, meaning although, is followed by the Subjunctive.

477. Rule XLIX. Cum causal or concessive is followed by the Subjunctive.

IĀSŌN ET MĒDĒA.

478. Multōs diēs Argonautae ad orientem prōvehēbantur. Tandem procul summa cacūmina Caucasi cernunt. Prīmā vigiliā subeunt ōstia flūminis Phāsidos, quī per finīs Colchōrum fluit. Hīc, cum ad finem cursūs pervēnissent, tamen māgnō timōre adficiēbantur. Nam ad urbem māgnī rēgis appropinquābant. Māne Iāsōn, cum novem comitēs dēlēgisset, ad urbem profectus est.¹ Quō ipsō tempore, fōrte Mēdēa, filia rēgis, catervā virginum comitante, sacrificandī causā ad lūcum Hecatēs ibat. Cuī igitur Iāsōn obviam ivit. Ille autem, cum incertus esset, quō via dūceret, ā Mēdēa viam ad rēgiā quaesivit. Cuī Mēdēa moenia urbis mōnstrāvit. Cum autem aliēnī discessissent, Mēdēa mīrābātur unde hī virī vēnissent, et māximē quis dux esset. Nam Iāsōn erat vir ēgregiā speciē, et reliquōs comitēs altīs umerīs superēminēbat.

479. 1. Since you are a stranger, I will show you the way. 2. Although they had entered the mouth of the river, they had not reached the end of their voyage. 3. Iāsōn, cum hōc audīvisset, pollicitus est sē rēgī ad id bellum auxilium datūrum esse. Sine morā rēx cum suō frātre bellum gerere incipit. Omnibus in locīs Argonautae ingentem clādem hostium faciunt. Tandem Persēs, omnī spē rēgnī potiendī dēpositā, ē finibus rēgis exiit. Inde Iāsōn, cum bellum cōfectum esset, postulāvit ut vellus aureum sibi trāderetur. Cuī sic respondit rēx: “Nōn iam tē morābor. 484. SUBJUNCTIVE WITH DUM, DŌNEC, AND QUOAD.

INDICATIVE.

Dum haec geruntur, reliqui discesserunt. While these things were going on, the rest departed.

SUBJUNCTIVE.

Rūsticus expectat, dum dēfluat amnis. The countryman is waiting (lit. until the river shall flow by) for the river to flow by.

a. Notice that when dum means while, and simply marks the fact that one action happens during another, the Indicative is used. The Present tense is preferred.

b. Observe, however, that when dum means until, and implies purpose, doubt, or futurity, it takes the Subjunctive.

NOTE. — Dōnec and quoad are used, though less frequently, in the same way.

485. Rule I. Dum, dōnec, and quoad, implying purpose, doubt, or futurity, take the Subjunctive, otherwise the Indicative.

486. SUBJUNCTIVE WITH ANTEQUAM AND PRIUS-QUAM.

INDICATIVE.

Neque prius fugere dēstiterunt quam ad flūmen Rhēnum pervēnerunt.
They did not cease fleeing before they came to the river Rhine.

SUBJUNCTIVE.

Priusquam sē hostēs ex terrōre reciperent, in finis Sueſsiōnum exercitum dūxit. Before the enemy could recover from fright, he led his army into the territory of the Sueſsiones.

a. Notice that the Indicative is used with priusquam to denote simply that one action happened before another. (Priusquam may be separated by intervening words as in the example illustrating the use of the Indicative.)

b. Notice that the Subjunctive is used with priusquam, when any further relation exists. . Thus in the example above there is an idea of possibility, as well as of priority of time.

487. Rule II. With antequam and priusquam the Indicative is used to express mere priority of time, the Subjunctive to express any further relation.

POTENTISSIMUM UNGUENTUM.

488. Iāsōn, cum tyrannī verba audīvisset, irātus sic respondit: “Praeclāram vērō grātiā, Aeēta, nōbis refert prō nostrīs tantīs beneficiīs! Ego tamen nōn sum is, quī periculum vītet. Priusquam sōl crāstinus occidet, aut tua iūssa cōnfēcerō, aut perierō.” Hīs verbīs discessit, et maestus ad sociōs sē contulit. Rēx autem valdē gāvisus est, quod crēdidit nūllum mortālem flammiferōs taurōs domāre posse. Intereā Mēdēa incerta erat, quid faceret. Scīvit enim Iāsonem sine auxiliō perītūrum esse. Diū haerēbat. Tandem eī clam auxilium ferre dēcrēvit. Exspectāvit dum omnēs somnō sē darent. Tum priusquam vigiliae eam caperent, ex rēgiā ēvāsīt, et ad flūmen pervēnit. Hīc subsistit incerta quid faciat. Subitō Iāsonem ipsum cernit. Ille enim quī ēscere nōn potuerat, atque sōlus in rīpā vagābātur. Quem Mēdēa sīc breviter appellat: “ Nē timē, Iāsōn. Ego sum Mēdēa, filia rēgis, quae vēnī ut tibi auxilium feram.” Hīs verbīs eī potentissimum unguentum dat, quod ipsa composuerat. Nam summam scientiam medicāmentōrum habēbat. Tum Mēdēa, cum Iāsonī explicuisset quō modo unguentō ūterētur, et quid deinde faciendū esset, ad rēgiam rediit.

489. 1. To-morrow's sun will set before you can subdue the fire-breathing bulls. 2. While she was escaping from the palace, the guards seized her. 3. They had come to bring her assistance. 4. His comrades departed before he could execute the king's commands. 5. She waited until Jason should bring her assistance.

Sight Translation. FLAMMIFERĪ TAURĪ.

490. Māne Iāsōn nūntium ad rēgem mīsīt, quī dracōnis dentīs referret. Deinde, cum suum corpus armaque unguentō unxisset, cum Argonautīs ad campum proficiscitur. Hīc duōs ingentīs taurōs ex stabulīs ēmergere vident. Mox illi aliēnōs cernunt. Parumper stant, dum terram aereīs pedibus pulsant et flammās ē nāribus expīrant. Tum horribilī mūgītū accēdunt. Iāsōn intrepidus stat, dum reliquī Argonautae sē in tūtiōrem locum recipiunt. Iam ferōcēs taurī in Iāsonem invādunt. Subitō, mīrābile dictū! sistunt atque sē convertunt. Sed, priusquam effugerent, Iāsōn prōsilit, atque eōs comprehendit. Neque hī, cum summīs vīribus nīterentur, ēius manūs excutere poterant. Tandem perdomitī, sē iungī patiuntur. Deinde Iāsōn campum arat, ac draconis dentīs sulcīs committit. Ex quibus venit mīra seges armātōrum virōrum. Dē hīs autem Mēdēa Iāsonem praemonuerat. Ille igitur sine morā in mediōs virōs suam galeam iniēcit. 494.

INDIRECT DISCOURSE.

The student will recall the general rule that verbs of saying, thinking, knowing, and perceiving are followed by the Infinitive with a subject-accusative. Examine the following examples:

a. SUBORDINATE CLAUSES.

DIRECT.

Germāni, qui trāns Rhēnum incolunt, inter sē obsidēs dant. The Germans, who dwell across the Rhine, are exchanging hostages.

INDIRECT.

Dicit Germānōs, qui trāns Rhēnum incolunt, inter sē obsidēs dare. He says that the Germans, who dwell across the Rhine, are exchanging hostages.

Dixit Germānōs, qui trāns Rhēnum incolerent, inter sē obsidēs dare. He said that the Germans, who dwelt across the Rhine, were exchanging hostages.

Observe that, in the Subordinate clause introduced by qui, the verb — which is in the Indicative mood in the Direct Discourse — becomes Subjunctive in the Indirect. Notice also that the rule for Sequence of Tenses holds good in Indirect Discourse.

b. COMMANDS.

DIRECT.

Veni ad mē, si potes. Come to me, if you can.

INDIRECT.

Respondet veniat ad sē, si possit. He replies that he may come to him, if he can.

Respondit veniret ad sē, si posset. He replied that he might come to him, if he could.

Observe that the Imperative in the Direct Discourse is changed to the Subjunctive in the Indirect.

Mild commands with the Hortatory Subjunctive in Direct Discourse retain the Subjunctive in the Indirect, thus :

DIRECT.

Redeat ad mē, cum volet. Let him return to me, when he pleases.

INDIRECT.

Respondet redeat ad sē, cum velit. He replies that he may return to him, when he pleases. Respondit rediret ad sē, cum vellet. He replied that he might return to him, when he pleased.

Notice that the First and Second persons in the Direct Discourse are usually changed to the Third person in the Indirect.

c. QUESTIONS.

DIRECT.

Quid tibi vīs? What do you mean?

INDIRECT.

Respondet: Quid sibi velit? He replies: What does he mean? Respondit: Quid sibi vellet? He replied: What did he mean?

Observe that a real question is put in the Subjunctive in Indirect Discourse. On the contrary, rhetorical questions (which are merely asked for effect, and imply their own answer) are generally put in the Infinitive in Indirect Discourse, thus :

DIRECT.

Quid est turpius? What is baser?

INDIRECT.

Quid esse turpius? What was baser?

A rhetorical question suggesting a doubt, and therefore taking the Subjunc. in Direct Discourse, retains the Subjunc. in the Indirect, as:

DIRECT.

INDIRECT.

Quid agam? What am I to do? Respondit: quid ageret? He replied: What was he to do?

495. Rule LII. In Indirect Discourse, the Subjunctive is used in subordinate clauses, in commands, and in real questions; but rhetorical questions regularly take the Infinitive

MEDEAE FUGA.

496. Iāsōn, omnibus labōribus cōfectīs, cum sociīs ad nāvem rediit. Rēx autem, cum Iāsonem negōtium cōnfēcisse audīvisset, prīmum obstupuit, deinde in suam fīliam saevīre coepit. Scīvit enim Mēdēam ūnam esse quae Iāsonī auxilium ferre potuisset. Cum tamen iam nox esset, statuit diem sibi exspectandum esse. Dīxit autem sē prīmā lūce in perfidam fīliam animadversūrum esse, quae suum patrem aliēnis prōdere voluisset.

Mēdēa, hīs minīs audītīs, vehementer commōta est. Scīvit enim Aeētam hominem esse barbarum et irācundum. Quid faceret? Nōn dubium esse quīn, sī in rēgiā manēret, sua vīta māgnō in periculō esset. Praetereā nisi Iāsōn dē cōsiliīs rēgis certior faceretur, illum cum omnibus sociīs peritūrum esse.

Tālia in animō volvēns, diū incerta erat. Tandem fugere dēcrēvit. Iterum ē rēgiā ēlapsa ad rīpam flūminis pervēnit. Hīc Iāsonem invēnit. Ille enim eius adventum exspectābat. Tum Mēdēa docuit ūnam esse spem salutis sī fugam experirentur; rēgem prīmā lūce cum omnibus cōpiīs ventūrum esse; sine morā in nāvem cōnscenderent et fugerent.

NOTE. — Before translating the following sentences into Latin, change the English into the Latin form. Thus the first sentence will read: Medea knew Jason her arrival to be about to await.

497. 1. Medea knew that Jason would await her arrival. 2. The king said that they might remain in the palace if they wished. 3. Jason knew that the king would be very angry, when he heard this. 4. They reply: What are they to do? If they remain, their lives will be in great danger. 5. Jason knows that Medea is the only (person) who can bring him assistance.

Sight Translation. MĒDĒA ET DRACŌ.

Inde Mēdēa Iāsonem sequī iussit; sē eum ad vellus aureum ductūram esse. Prōtinus virgō rapidō passū in dēnsam silvam penetrāvit. Iāsōn ducem subsequitur. Subitō Iāsōn ingentem flammam cōn-

Gradatim

An Easy Latin Translation Book for Beginners. By H. R. HEATLEY, and H. N. KINGDON. Revised by J. W. SCUDDER, Latin Master in the Albany Academy. 16mo, cloth, 228 pages. Price, 50 cents.

GRADATIM offers an excellent selection of easy reading-matter which may be used to arouse and stimulate the interest of the pupil in his early study of Latin. It may be used either for lessons to be regularly prepared by classes just beginning the subject, or for sight-reading by more advanced students. The abundance of material offered will allow the teacher to select such stories as will best serve his particular purpose. The special excellence of Gradatim lies in the intrinsic interest of the stories. In this respect it is equalled by no similar book that has been ever issued.

Twenty-five pages of Latin stories, which illustrate the use of the Accusative with the Infinitive, the Subjunctive of Indirect Question, and the Ablative Absolute, have been added to the original work. This is the only edition of the work in which these three subjects are especially treated.

In the first third of the book, all long vowels have been marked; elsewhere they are marked only in words which are likely to be mispronounced, or which occur for the first time.

The Vocabulary has been entirely rewritten, and its scope much enlarged.

Ray Greene Huling, Principal of the English High School, Cambridge, Mass.: In its original English form it was a delightful primer, and has relieved the drudgery of elementary work in Latin in many schools. The changes introduced by this editor are genuine additions, making the work a much better supplementary book for early translation than before.

H. S. Cowell, Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass.: I regard it as a very valuable book for supplementary work for first-year Latin students.

Professor John H. Grove, Ohio Wesleyan University: It is certainly an admirable book to put into the hands of beginners in Latin as a companion to the Latin Grammar. In both matter and general appearance the work will commend itself to instructors.

B. L. D'Ooge, Normal School, Ypsilanti, Mich.: It is in my judgment by far the best collection of easy Latin Selections available.

Selections from Viri Romæ

With Notes, Exercises, and a Vocabulary by Professor JOHN C. ROLFE, University of Michigan. 16mo, cloth, 301 pages. Price, 75 cents.

URBIS ROMÆ VIRI ILLUSTRÉS is a compilation from Cicero, Livy, Valerius Maximus, and other Roman writers. It is admirably adapted to help the pupil over the difficult transition from the introductory Latin book to Cæsar or Nepos.

The advantage in its use lies in the fact that it is full of variety and interest, and that it gives the pupil a sketch of Roman history from Romulus to Augustus in an attractive form, together with many allusions to the customs of Roman life.

In the present edition the quantities of all the long vowels, including "hidden quantities," are marked; exercises for translation of English into Latin, based on the text, are given.

Thirty-nine pages of the book have been prepared for reading at sight. The other selections are annotated with grammatical and explanatory notes.

Isaac B. Burgess, The Morgan Park Academy, University of Chicago:

After considerable class-room use, I take pleasure in commending the edition of Viri Romæ by Professor John C. Rolfe. The notes and vocabulary show care and accuracy. The marking of all long vowels is very valuable in elementary work. The hints for translation into Latin admirably cover a good deal of ground in a little space, and the exercises for translation from English into Latin save a teacher much work.

L. C. Hull, Lawrenceville School, New Jersey: Rolfe's edition of Viri Romæ is an excellent book; attractive, scholarly, and able to stand the test of class-room use. I have been compelled to let the management of the class that is using the book pass into the hands of another teacher; so that I have missed most of the pleasure that has come from its adoption here. But I can vouch for its excellence.

George H. Browne, Cambridge, Mass.: Every time I have looked over Rolfe's Viri Romæ I have admired the aim and method of its editor more and more, and cannot commend too highly the success he seems to me to have attained. After using, I expect to make the same report.

Professor J. H. Dillard, Tulane University, New Orleans, La.: It gives in excellent form, with judicious notes and timely suggestions, correct material for easy work in reading Latin. I should like to commend also the careful marking of the long vowels.

From the earliest times down to 146 B.C. By ROBERT F. PENNELL, Principal of State Normal School, Chico, Cal. Revised Edition, with Plans and Colored Maps. 16mo, cloth, 193 pages. Price, 60 cents.

Ancient Rome

From the earliest times down to 476 A.D. By ROBERT F. PENNELL. Revised Edition, with Plans and Colored Maps. 16mo, cloth, 284 pages. Price, 60 cents.

IN these books the leading facts are presented in a concise and readable form. Minor details and unimportant names are omitted. The maps and plans have been drawn and engraved especially for the books, and contain all the data, and only the data, necessary for following the story.

The Index serves also as a key to the pronunciation of proper names. Examination papers used at Harvard, Yale, and by the Regents of the University of New York, are added in an appendix.

Most teachers prefer a brief manual for a text-book in the hands of the pupils. It is easy to assign outside reading for special subjects in which it may be desired to spend extra time; and the teacher can use his own judgment in selecting the topics to fit the pupils and the time at his disposal. Pennell's histories contain enough matter, if carefully studied, to enable a student to pass the entrance examinations at any American college or university.

W. McD. Halsey, Collegiate School, 34 West Fortieth Street, New York City: Pennell's Greece and Rome are well adapted to their purpose. Having used the Greece last year, I will now add the Rome to the list of my text-books. The clear statements of the author, and the fine typographical work, commend the books at sight; and the enthusiasm of both teachers and pupils shows that Mr. Pennell has made books suited to our need.

H. B. Knox, Friends' School, Providence, R.I.: You are doing us all a service by putting the history of these nations into such an ideal form.

Burr Lewis, Lincoln, Neb.: The additions only make a more excellent compound of Roman History for use in the class-room. It was excellent before.

The Lives of Cornelius Nepos

With Notes, Exercises, and Vocabulary by Professor JOHN C. ROLFE, University of Michigan. 12mo, cloth, 387 pages. Price, $1.10.

IN general the same plan is followed as in the Selections from Viri Romæ.

In the text, as well as elsewhere throughout the book, the quantity of all the long vowels is marked, including "hidden quantities."

The notes are designed to enable the pupil to understand the writer's meaning, and to get a clear idea of the events and personages referred to. Instruction in syntax is given mainly by the Exercises for Translation into Latin. These exercises have been prepared both for oral and for written work, and are based on the text.

The book is provided with a full vocabulary, in which special attention is given to the definition of proper names, and with maps, including all the places mentioned by Nepos.

Charles C. Ramsay, Principal of High School, Fall River, Mass.: It would be difficult to say too much in praise of Professor Rolfe's "The Lives of Cornelius Nepos." The Introduction, Notes, and Vocabulary are unusually well done, and will render the study of the lives interesting and delightful. The publishers, moreover, deserve a share of the praise for the very attractive form in which the book is issued. The typography is clear, and the paper is good.

Walter A. Edwards, Principal of High School, Rockford, Ill.: I am delighted with your Rolfe's edition of Nepos, both as to its typographical appearance and as to the educational value of the work. Taking it altogether it is a most attractive text-book. I am not clear in my mind whether we are ready to drop Cæsar yet and turn to some such work as this, which would certainly have the advantage of greater interest, and perhaps a greater practical value. There are some points of value which we should be sorry to lose . . . but I am open to conviction, and Professor Rolfe's book goes a long way toward convincing me.

Professor Leon J. Richardson, University of California: As a Latin department we are encouraging the reading of Nepos in the California High Schools. For this purpose your book commends itself very highly.

Professor F. G. Axtell, Chaffey College, Ontario, Calif.: The Nepos is the best edition I have seen.

Cæsar's Gallic War

Edited, with Introduction. Notes, Vocabulary, Table of Idioms, and twenty full-page Illustrations, by Professor FRANCIS W. KELSEY, University of Michigan. 12mo, half leather, 506 pages. Price, $1.25.

THROUGHOUT the book every effort has been made, by way of illustration and comment, to render the study of Cæsar attractive and useful, a means of culture as well as of discipline. That the result has been to produce the best-equipped edition of the Gallic War is generally conceded.

The Introduction, besides giving a full review of Cæsar's life and character, furnishes also a concise and logical account of the Roman art of war in Cæsar's time. The Illustrations consist of six full-page colored plates, of a double-page map of Gaul, and of fourteen full-page maps and plans.

The text is clear, accurate, and uniform in its orthography, and is conveniently divided by brief English summaries.

The Notes are apt and sensible, with full references to the Grammars of Bennett, Allen and Greenough, and Harkness.

The Table of Idioms and Phrases, found in no other edition, will enable a teacher to drill his class on those constructions which are most perplexing to beginners.

The Vocabulary, like the Notes, is intended to give the pupil only such help as he needs, and such knowledge as he can digest.

Charles S. Chapin, Principal High School, Fitchburg, Mass.: I consider Kelsey's Cæsar, both for teacher and pupil, the most admirable edition in the field, combining in one volume text, notes, dictionary of antiquities, maps, and all the instruments for successful study of the Commentaries.

O. D. Robinson, Principal High School, Albany, N.Y.: As a text-book it seems to me if not absolutely perfect, to approach as near perfection as any book I have ever examined. The Introduction and colored plates are invaluable as aids to a clear understanding of the text, and are superior to anything of the kind elsewhere. The maps, notes, vocabulary, and table of idioms, are unsurpassed in any text-book of Cæsar now in use.

Richard M. Jones, Head Master, Wm. Penn Charter School, Philadelphia: Kelsey's Cæsar is, in my judgment, the nearest approach yet made in this country to what a school edition of an ancient classic should be.

Selections from Ovid

With an Introduction, Notes, and Vocabulary by Professor FRANCIS W. KELSEY. Illustrated. 12mo, half leather, 447 pages. Price, $1.25.

AS in the editions of Cæsar and Cicero by the same editor, no pains have been spared to make the book pleasing to the eye and useful to the student. The selections, with a few exceptions, are short and complete in themselves. A considerable number of them will be found suitable for sight-reading.

The Introduction contains a sketch of the life and works of Ovid, with a short essay on Ovid as a poet, together with an outline of Greek and Roman Mythology.

The Notes are elementary, but at the same time they aim to suggest a poetic interpretation of the author.

William C. Collar, Headmaster, Roxbury Latin School, Mass.: I am glad to see an edition containing so good and so varied a collection from Ovid's writings. The book seems to me to be a very conscientious piece of work, and I am particularly pleased with the frequent and happy quotations, in the notes, of passages from English poets.

Walter A. Edwards, Principal, High School, Rockford, Ill.: I am delighted with it. The editor has made an excellent school-book, without thrusting into the background the literary charm of the text he is annotating. The abundant quotations from the English poets must materially help toward a right appreciation and enjoyment of Ovid's poetry.

L. C. Hull, Lawrenceville School, N.J.: Professor Kelsey has again shown how admirably he can meet the wants of good teachers. But his edition of Ovid does more than this. It must quicken the poetic sense of even the most prosaic teachers. I cannot help feeling that many a pupil will thank Professor Kelsey for having shown how the same themes that inspired Ovid still live in our own English classics. We have had given to us a manual of mythology, a scholarly edition of a Latin classic, and an abundance of poetic inspiration, all at once. Ovid did not write to exhibit the grammatical usages of his day, or to help make philologists; and Professor Kelsey has not made the mistake of supposing that his verses are best used when they are made to serve such purposes.

Professor George H. White, Oberlin College: The notes are made attractive, and their meaning more clear, by many quotations from a wide range of English poets. In this latter respect it is superior to every other school edition of the ancient classics. I commend the book without reserve.

Selected Orations and Letters of Cicero

With Introduction, Notes, and Vocabulary by Professor FRANCIS W. KELSEY. 12mo, half leather, 518 pages. Illustrated. Price, $1.25.

THE Orations given in this edition are the four against Catiline, those for the Manilian Law, Archias, Marcellus, and the fourth oration against Antony. These are edited with a view to showing their value as examples of oratory, rather than as offering mere material for grammatical drill. The student's attention is directed to the occasion and circumstances of their delivery, as well as to the motive and method of presenting the matter contained in them. Modes of legal procedure, the Constitution and form of government in Cicero's time, and the whole environment of the orator, are brought into clear view, and made a reality to the student.

The Letters are selected with reference to the light they shed on Cicero as a man rather than as a politician. They afford pleasant glimpses of his private life, and help to make real the pupil's conception of the times in which he lived. As material for short exercises for sight translation or rapid reading they will be found of special value.

A Table of Idioms and Phrases presents in form convenient for use, constructions that deserve special attention.

Lincoln Owen, Principal of the Rice Training-School, Boston: Kelsey's Cicero is a model in the art of text-book making. It cannot fail to be a success for editor, publisher, and user. I count the teachers and the pupils of the present generation fortunate in having such admirable "instruments of education" as Professor Kelsey is preparing for us.

Professor J. W. Stearns, University of Wisconsin: Kelsey's Cicero commends itself more than any words of mine can commend it. It is a teacher's book, up to modern times, both in text and annotations, and admirably printed.

Miss Ellen F. Snow, High School, Keene, N.H.: I have now used it in my classes for five weeks in connection with . . . in the hands of a part of the class. Kelsey has the preference every time. It gives a body to the ideas, and tells the scholars things that they want to know in a way suited to them. I have been waiting long enough to test it, and I like it better every week.

A Latin Grammar

By Professor CHARLES E. BENNETT, Cornell University. 12mo, cloth, 265 pages. Price, 80 cents.

IN this book the essential facts of Latin Grammar are presented within the smallest compass consistent with high scholarly standards. It covers not only the work of the preparatory school, but also that of the required courses in college and university. By omitting rare forms and syntactical usages found only in ante-classical and post-classical Latin, and by relegating to an Appendix theoretical and historical questions, it has been found possible to treat the subject with entire adequacy in the compass of 250 pages exclusive of Indexes. In the German schools, books of this scope fully meet the exacting demands of the entire gymnasial course, and those who have tried Bennett's Grammar find that they are materially helped by being relieved of the mass of useless and irrelevant matter which forms the bulk of the older grammars.

Professor William A. Houghton, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine:

The Grammar proper is admirably adapted to its purpose in its clearness of arrangement and classification, and in its simplicity and precision of statement, giving definitely just what the pupil must know, and not crowding the page with a mass of matter that too often disheartens the young student instead of helping him. I trust it will come into general use, for I think for the reasons just given, and because of its moderate compass and attractive appearance, students are likely to get more practical grammatical knowledge out of it than they generally do from the larger grammars.

Professor Alfred M. Wilson, University of Nebraska, Lincoln: I have examined it very carefully, and I can say, truly and with pleasure, that my first impressions have become positive convictions as to the very great value and utility of the book. I am daily using it with increasing delight and satisfaction. It is clear, concise, and independent.

The Critic, Feb. 29, 1896. The book is a marvel of condensed, yet clear and forcible, statement. Just enough examples are given to illustrate each principle without discouraging the pupil by their number and variety. The ground covered in the treatment of forms and syntax is adequate for ordinary school work and for the use of freshmen and sophomores in college.
